An Indian Prayer

O GREAT SPIRIT: whose voice I hear in the winds, and whose breath gives life to all the world, hear me. I come before you, one of your many children — I am small and weak. I need your strength and wisdom.

Let me walk in beauty and make my eyes ever behold the red and purple sunset. Make my hands respect the things you have made, my ears sharp to hear your voice. Make me wise, so that I may know the things you have taught my people, the lesson you have hidden in every leaf and rock.

I seek strength not only to be superior to my brothers, but to be able to fight my greatest enemy — myself. Make me ever ready to come to you with clean hands and straight eyes, so when life fades as a fading sunset, my spirit may come to you without shame.

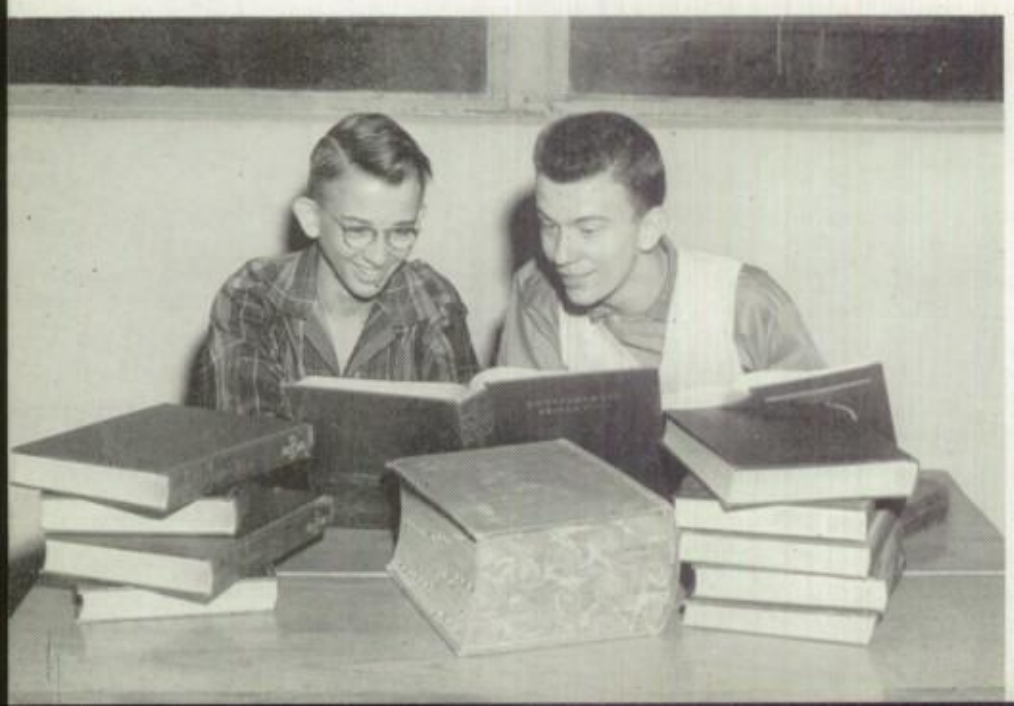
WORKING TOGETHER TO INCREASE OUR

WISDOM

MISS RUTH MIER receives the "shiny red apple" and the principalship of William R. Boone High School from Superintendent R. Earl Kipp.

FOLLOWING HIS APPOINTMENT as assistant principal, Mr. J. B. Johnson addresses the student body .

FOR THE ENJOYMENT of their classmates, Larry Kingsbury and Elliott Moon demonstrate how they were able to be highest scorers in the Merit Scholarship Test.



CHEMISTRY is such an absorbing subject that Price Kagey returns to the laboratory on Saturday to perform an experiment.

MISS EVALYN McENTIRE, director of testing, is proud of these adults who have passed the equivalency test to qualify for a high school diploma. L. to R.: Benjamin Walker, recently arrived from Israel and a student at Orlando Junior College; Miss McEntire; Kim and his mother, Mrs. Maxie Deitz, a young housewife; Miss Doris Johannes, an occupational therapy aide; Mrs. Sally Davis, a secretary in the Orange County Health Department.

"YOU AIN'T NOTHING but a hound dog," sings Glenn Purcell in true Elvis fashion at the Homecoming Dance.

AND GAIN

STRENGTH

STUDENTS and teachers discuss the unique mobile exhibit which they have just inspected. Reservists Mr. Jack Hall, Mac Barnes, Gary Hamlet, Bill Hamilton and Mr. Vahan Magarian are particularly interested in encouraging others to join.

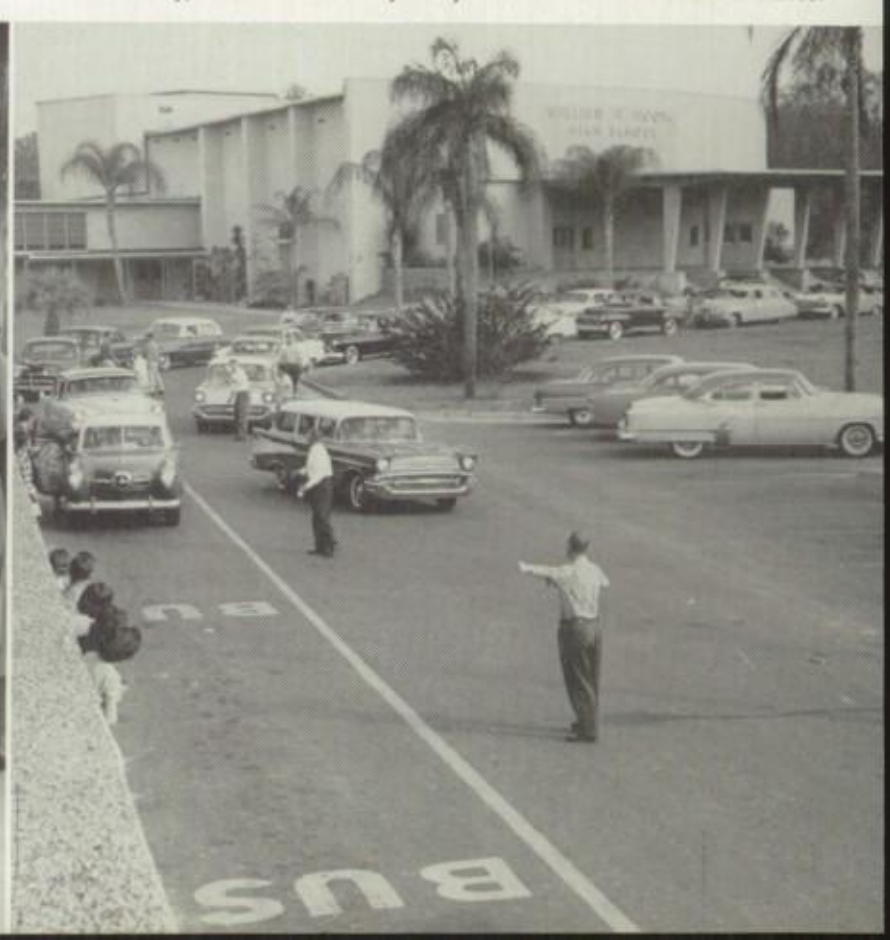
a) J. B. JOHNSON, assistant principal, discusses the final plans for the January 30 evacuation—Operation School Out—with Captain Rodenbaugh and Mrs. Mary Bailey, coordinator. Civil Defense and Safety Club representatives listen.

b) WHEN THE SIREN SOUNDS to evacuate students receive "snatch out" slips. These slips co information about the individual that would be vital to his safety in case of a real air atta

c) STUDENTS FILE OUT of classrooms and stand against the wall until the order is given to move out and load in the cars.

d) ASSEMBLING in groups of five, students wait quietly for a car to come by to pick them up. Complete calm and quiet are necessary to the successful evacuation.

e) TEACHERS DIRECT TRAFFIC as cars drive around the circle to load students. With the aid of student drivers and many from the community, Boone was completely evacuated in eleven minutes.



WHILE "DOC" OSBORN enjoys the "pause that refreshes," Book Store Manager Jim Hartman and his assistant, Robert Williams, catch up on a little homework before the afterschool rush for pencils and notebook paper.

WE GO FORWARD . . .

"THAT'S MAGNIFICENT photography," comments Robert Strange, president of the Art Club, to Billy Brown and Stephanie Gladden as they study the Salem Exhibit.

BOONE AND EDGEWATER students, Jon Johnson, Carl Nimnicht, Kay Chicone, Ann Price, and a S-Star Columnist, Jean Yothers, prepare to fly to New York to present gifts to Arthur Godfrey for his publicity of Orlando's Youth Center.

OUR GOAL — TO MEET

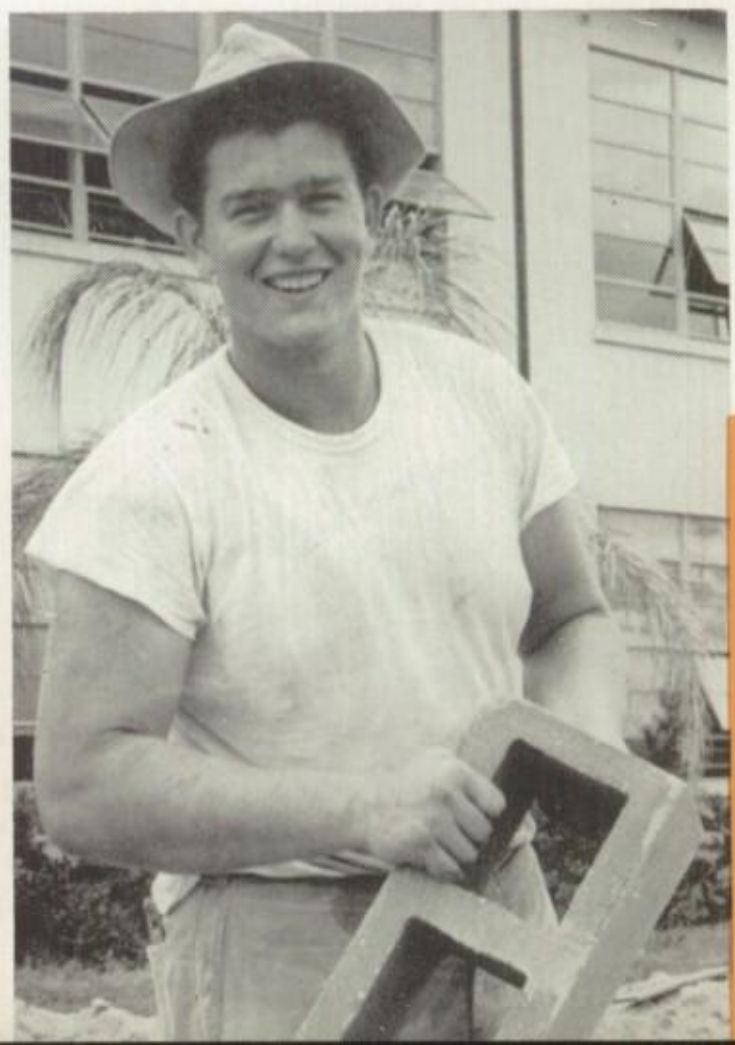
ANNETTE KOWALSKI and Nancy Harmon prepare posters to be entered in the Central Florida Exposition February 18-23.

LOVELY Judy Auger beams proudly after being crowned Civitan's "First Lady" by President Richard Swann.

AT THE FIRST P. T. A. MEETING parents followed their children's schedules and visited their classrooms. Miss Rosemary McGlinchy discusses required reading for sophomores.



PROVING that work never hurts anyone, Lou Voekel—a Boone graduate—earns part of his college expenses by working on the new wing.

WITH MATURE JUDGMENT AND VISION

ON BEHALF OF THE FACULTY, Mr. Leonard Stith presents Mr. Kipp with a brief case. L. to R.: Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Miss Ruth Mier, Mr. Kipp, Mr. Stith, Mrs. Kipp, Mr. Richard Jolley.

FACULTY AND GUESTS enjoy a "good luck" dinner in honor of Mr. Kipp and his being elected to the position of Superintendent of Public Instruction for Orange County.

"AND STILL THEY COME!" Mr. Robert Davison adds a fourth piece of luggage for Mr. and Mrs. Kipp to hold.

THE PROBLEMS OF OUR

MODERN WORLD

AT THE HEAD TABLE are Miss Ruth Mier, Mr. R. Earl Kipp and Mrs. Kipp.

DEDICATION

AN ENGINEER, AN EDUCATOR, A FRIEND

NO SCHOOL PROBLEM is too small for the careful scrutiny of "Sherlock" Kipp.

Mr. Kipp enjoys a snack while keeping up with his busy schedule.

In dedicating this—our 1957 BOONE LEGEND—to R. Earl Kipp, we realize how inadequately we express our most sincere admiration, respect and gratitude to a man who has played such a vital role in making our years at Boone both happy and fruitful.

Since the opening of Wm. R. Boone High School in 1952, Principal Kipp has worked tirelessly for the welfare of his students and staff. A man of progress, he has continuously headed a program of building and of improvement; and he leaves Boone much the better for his wise leadership.

Although he bade us farewell on January 8 to accept the position of Superintendent of Public Instruction for Orange County, we know that his great interest in and affection for all that is our Alma Mater will not cease.

R. EARL KIPP
Superintendent of Public Instruction for Orange County.

EVIDENTLY Mr. Foti's hobby is a "fishy" one. He caught these beauties within three hours' time, but he keeps the name of the Orlando lake a secret.

"ATTENTION ALL BRAVES . . ." reads Mrs. Griffith, school clerk, as she broadcasts the daily bulletin to all classrooms.

MRS. LIVINGSTON OBLIGINGLY pauses in her bookkeeping for the many Boone accounts to verify an item for Miss Page, the school secretary.

Contributes to Welfare of Students

In discussing teen-age problems, sponsoring College Night and managing the cafeteria, the Parent-Teacher Association carries out its 1957 Theme—"Traveling BOONE HIGH-ways Together."

The objectives of the association are listed as follows:

1. To promote the welfare of the children and youth in home, school, church and community.
2. To raise the standards of home life.
3. To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.
4. To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.
5. To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education.

SCENES AT THE P. T. A. Candlelight dinner: T. Brown and G. Gatewood exchange a juicy bit of gossip while cheerleaders A. Price, L. Beck and S. Foti seriously talk over the evening's game against Lakeland.

B. CARTER AND M. COMPTON seem pleased about something. Can it be the combination of tasty food and entertaining dinner companions, K. Melrose and J. Johnston?

WITH TOOLS of their trade in hand, the custodians emerge from their supply room. Mr. French's remarks seem to amuse his co-workers, Mr. Dyal, Mr. Slater, Mr. Rice and Mr. Walters.

CUSTODIANS AND CAFETERIA WORKERS

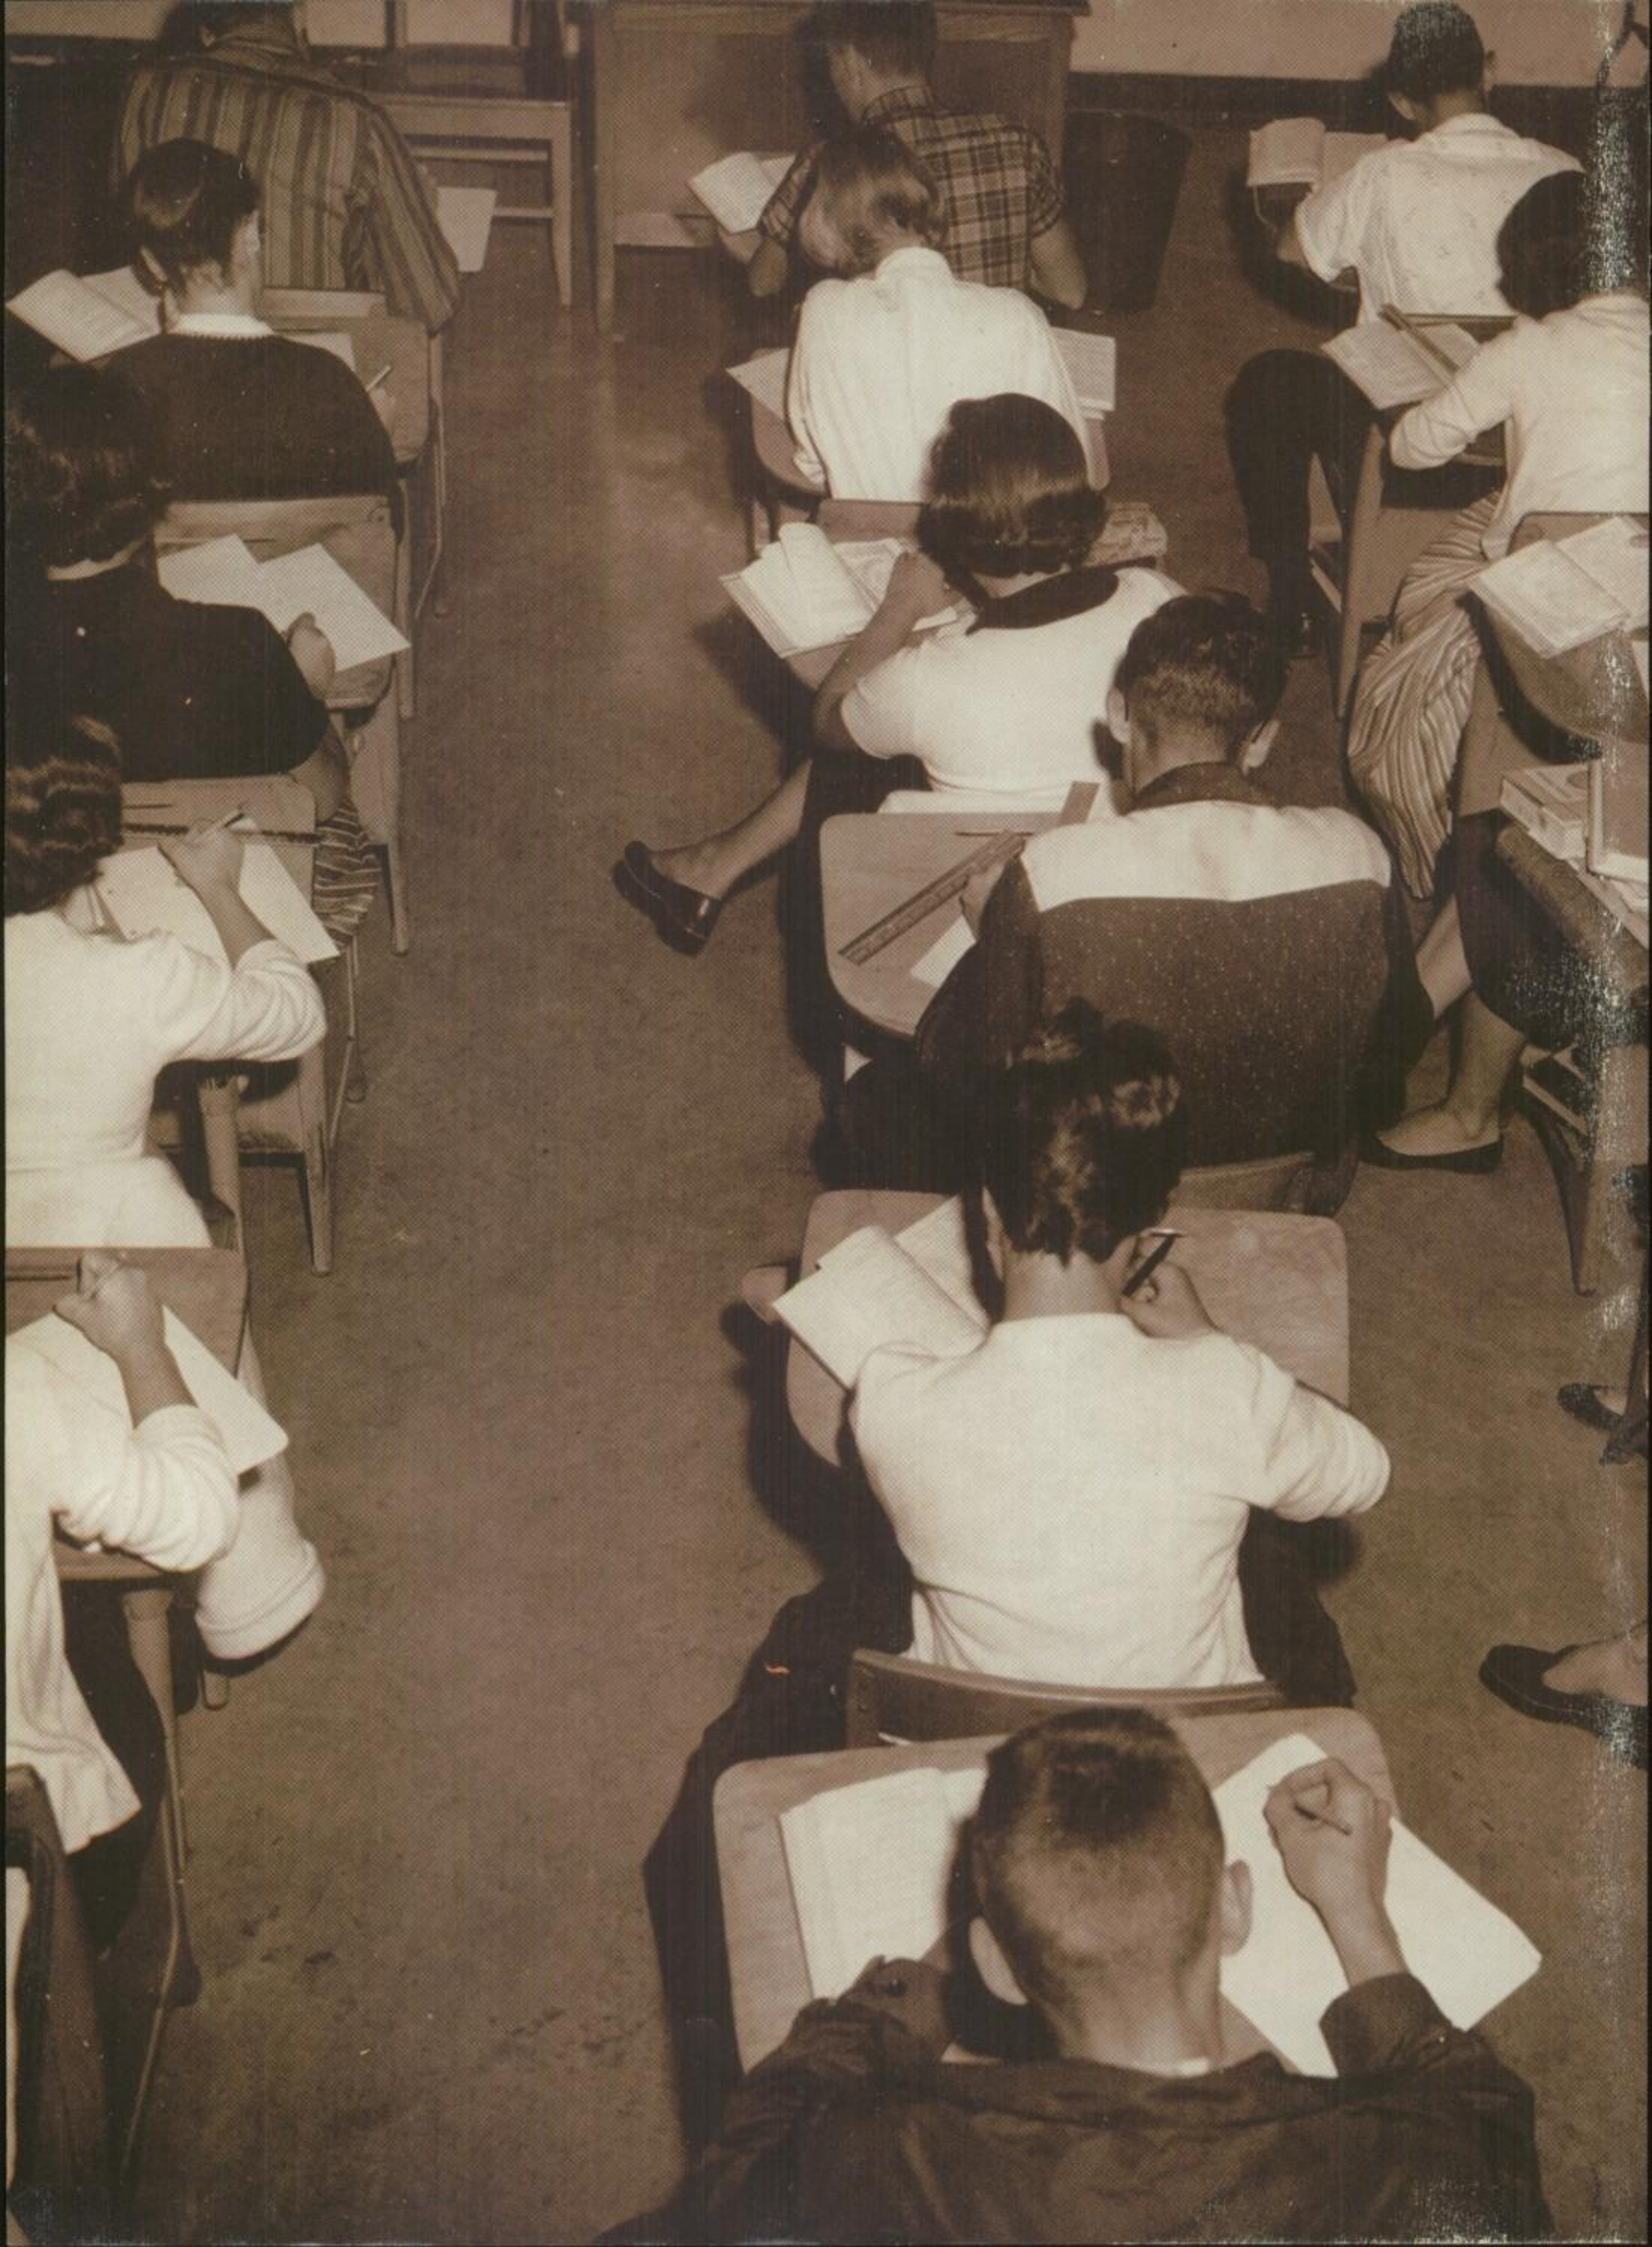
Look After Daily Needs of Braves

Housekeeping for over 1500 students and 68 teachers is a mansize job if they are to be properly housed and fed. Miles of corridors alone must be cleaned, and truck loads of vegetables must be cooked.

In addition to their regular duties, the custodians willingly hang pictures, move equipment and assist the faculty and students in numerous ways. The cafeteria workers likewise generously give extra service by preparing food and beverages for student and administrative groups.

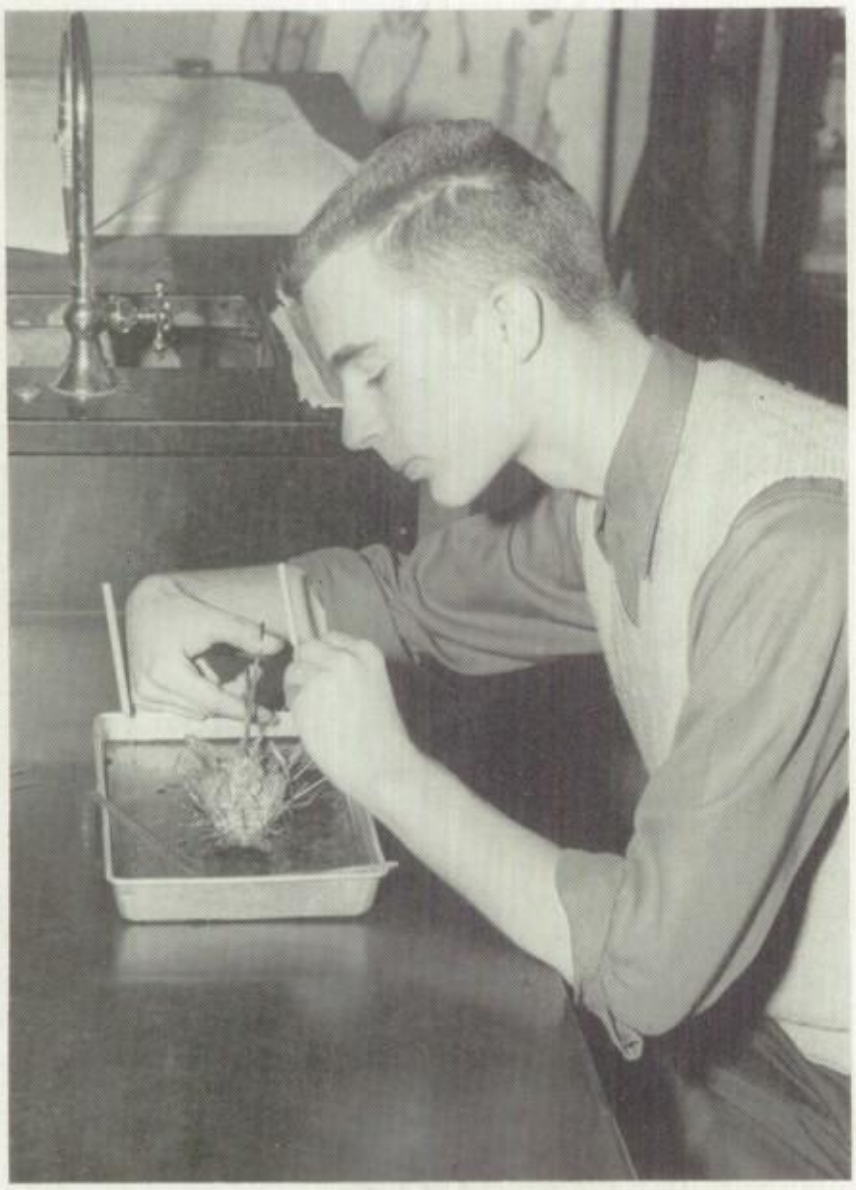
CONSTANTLY polishing, Agnes Lee, school maid, cheerfully does her part in making Boone shine.

THESE CAPABLE cooks prepare over a thousand appetizing and nourishing meals a day under the supervision of Mrs. Carpenter (far right). The cafeteria is a P. T. A. project.



Make Me Wise

STUDENT



L. BOONE METICULOUSLY dissects a crayfish—a task not envied by many, but required of all biology lab students.

Did you know that the crayfish's mouth is located on his chest? That's what biology students report after dissecting one. Through this practical lab course, students realize that what they have learned in their books is more easily retained if they have the opportunity of seeing the actual thing.

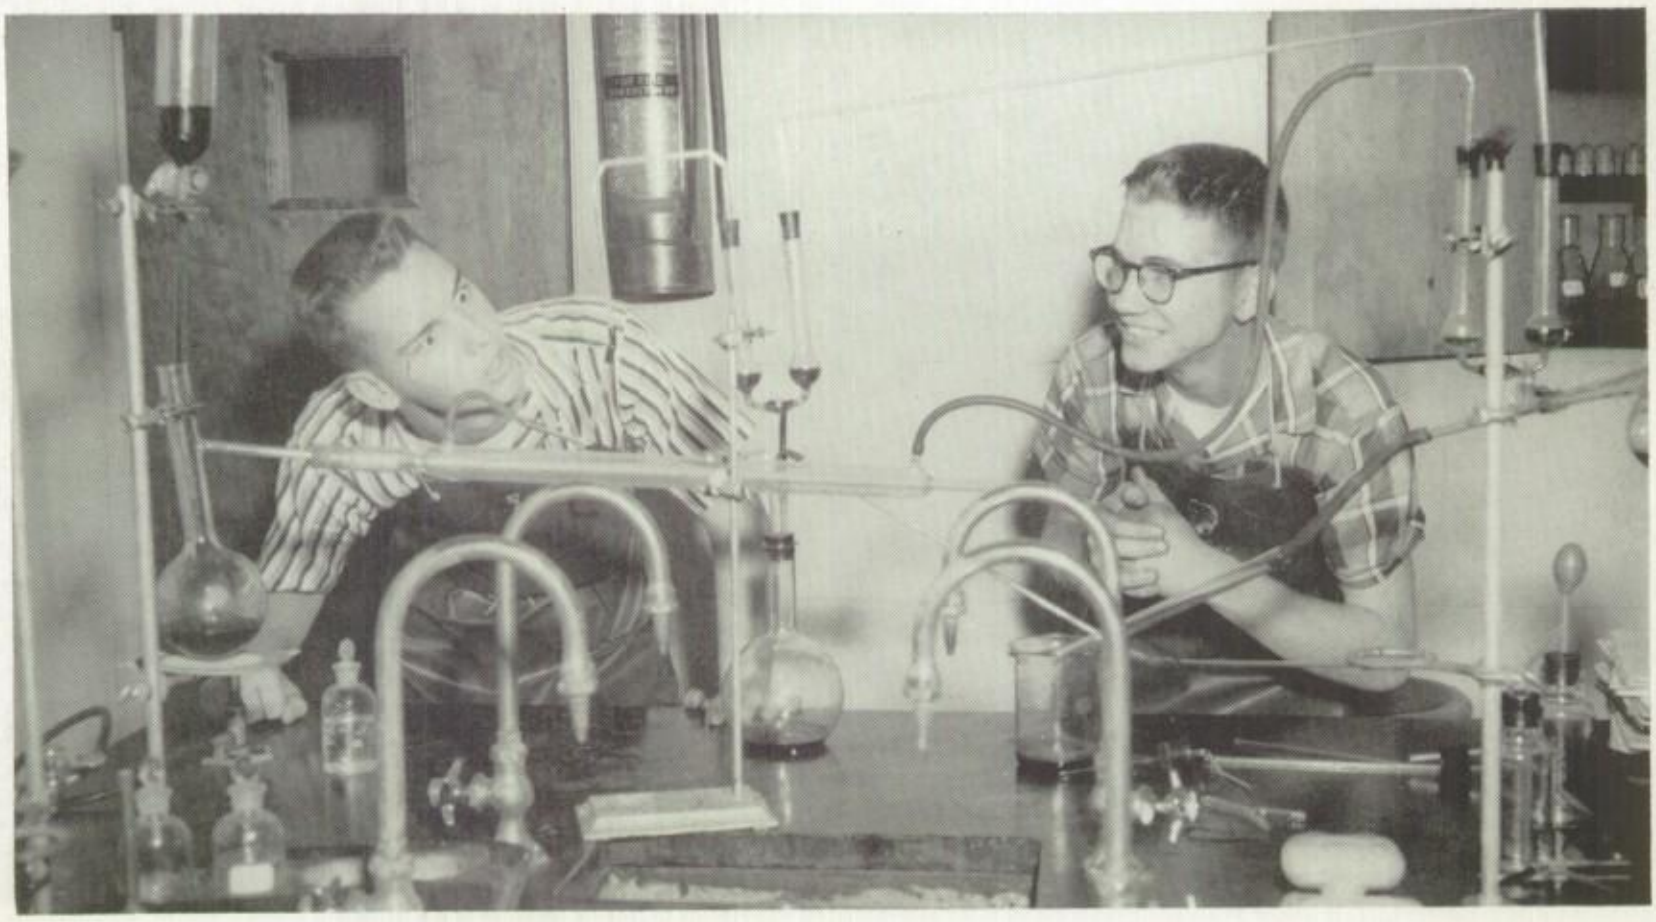
Question: How does a Boone Brave rate a purple heart? Answer: If he should get burned in the chemistry lab, he is permitted to wear one. Chemistry is a useful course in which book learning is supplemented by a lab course where accuracy is a "must."

Sines, cosines, tangents and cotangents might frustrate any trigonometry student except for the excellent guidance of the teacher. Given the first semester, trigonometry is replaced the second semester by solid geometry, where students practice in logic and visualization. Most plane geometry students find it a challenge to learn the theorems, postulates and axioms and then to use them properly.

In Algebra I factors, coefficients and literal numbers make heads swim, while in Algebra II students plunge into quadratics and imaginary numbers as they delve more deeply into mathematics.

To learn the many facts about light, heat and mechanics is the aim of physics students. For that reason the instructor often conducts demonstrations which enable students to visualize the problems.

"MAD SCIENTISTS" B. Hardy and R. Candler prayerfully hope that their experiments will not blow up the chemistry lab.



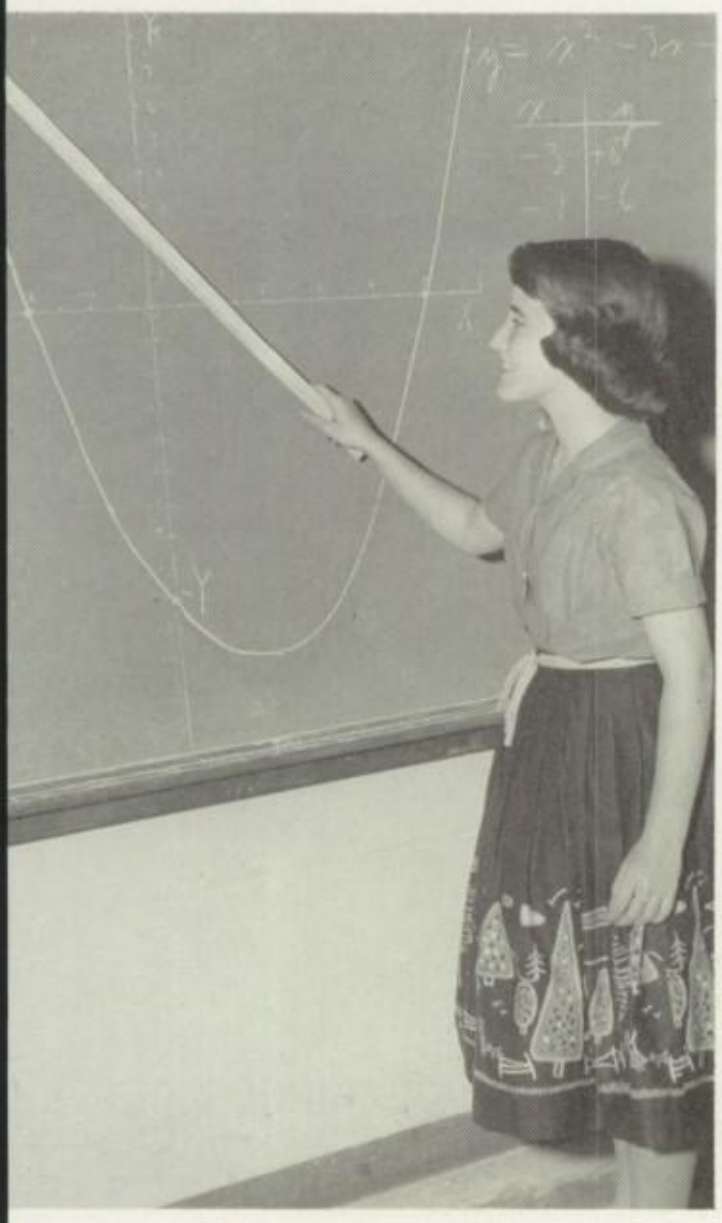
LIFE

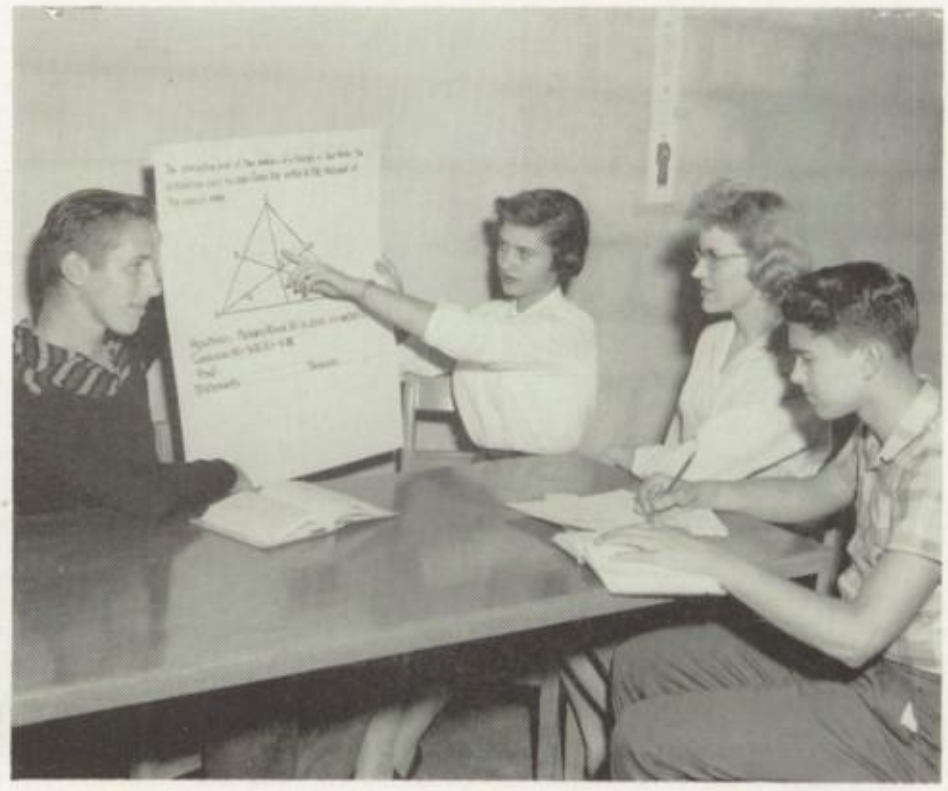
J. McCREA EXPLAINS the intricacies of a solid geometry problem to C. Smith and E. Banks.

J. SOJOURNER, B. Hamilton, P. Littleford and T. Phelps concentrate on getting the results of an experiment in physics while their instructor, Mr. Kirst, looks on.

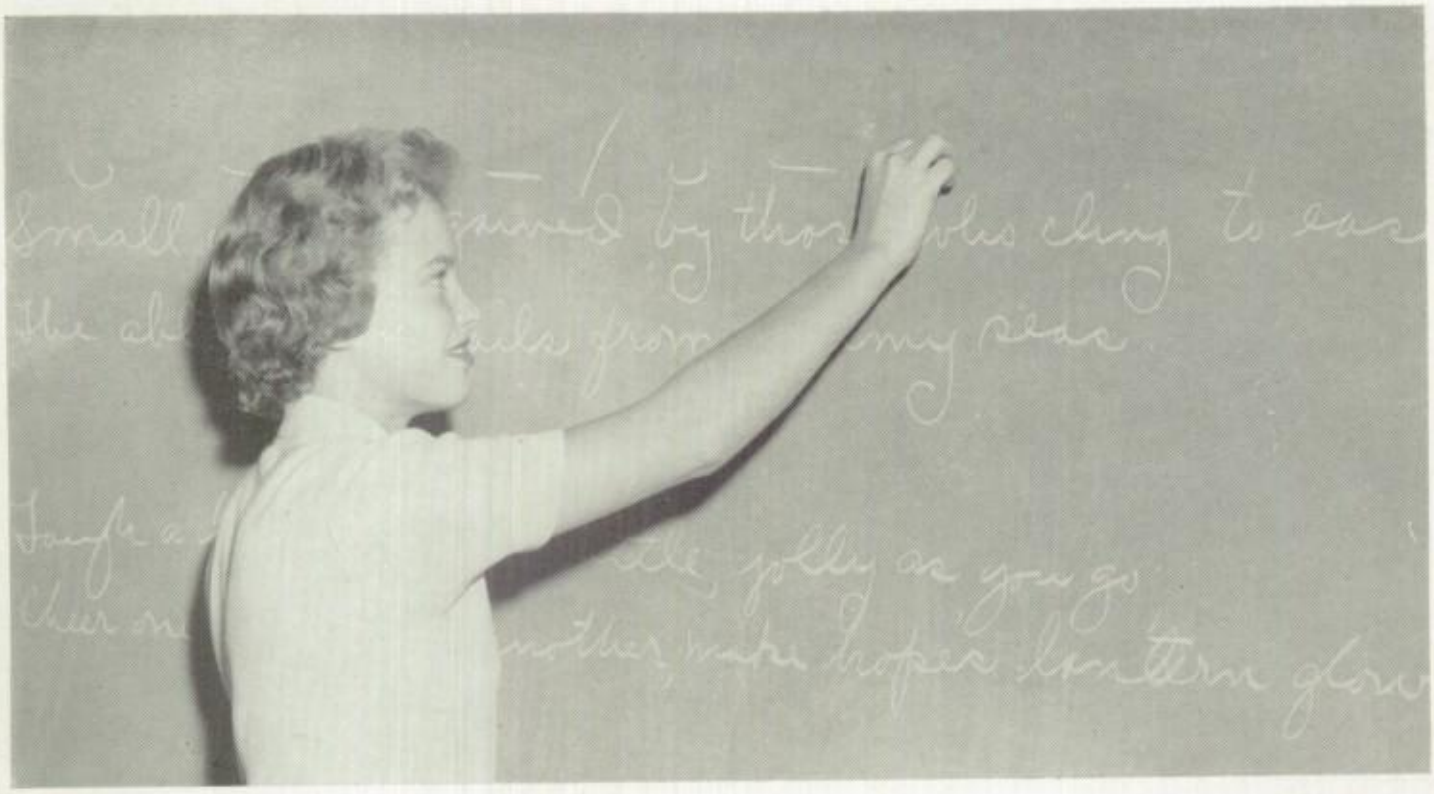
MEMBERS OF a plane geometry clique in Miss McEntire's class—G. Bent, P. Bergert, B. Lewis, T. J. DuBose—discuss how to start their proof that AO= 2/3 AD; BO=2/3 BE.

IN MR. GANTT'S Algebra II class, D. Teasley shows her classmates how to plot a parabola.

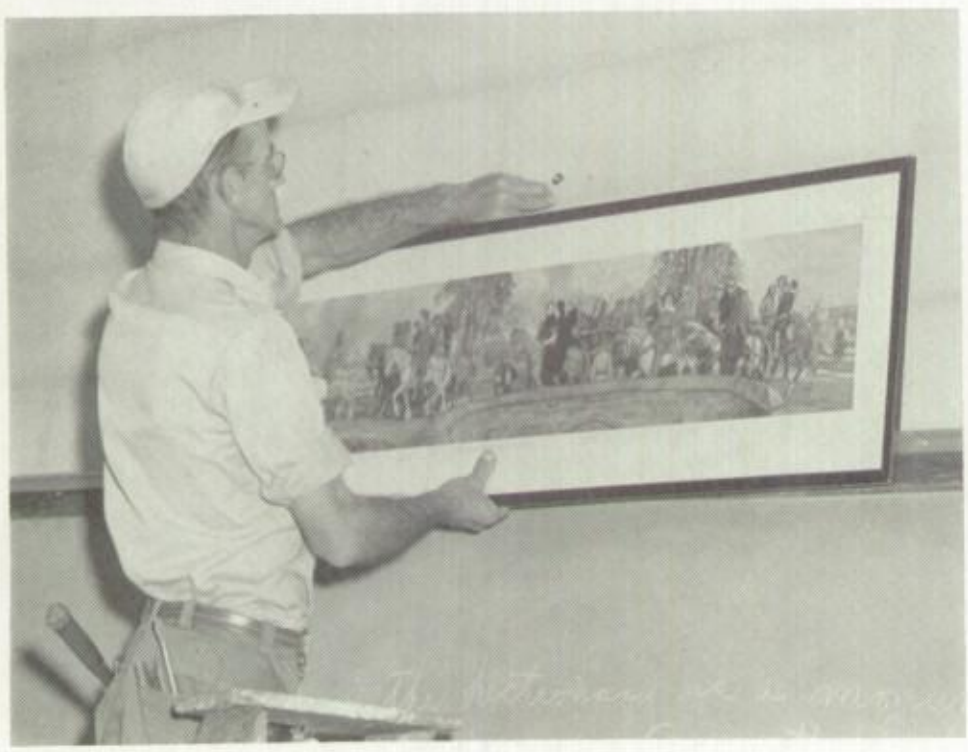




STUDENT



"AN UNSTRESSED and a stressed syllable make an iambic foot," explains A. Sherman as she scans poetry in one of Mrs. Miller's English III classes.



"To be able to speak, write and read English with proficiency is the most important qualification of a high school graduate," publically announced the General Electric Company recently.

At Boone the varied courses in English give students the opportunity to develop that proficiency as well as a genuine appreciation of such literary masterpieces as "Macbeth" and "The Canterbury Tales." Students also practice in areas ranging from writing letters of application to scanning poetry.

Boone graduates who are now doing commendable work in their college English classes are proof of the value of these high school courses.

MR. FRENCH, head custodian, hangs a picture of The Cantetrbury Pilgrims for one of the English teachers.

EVEN THOUGH it's cold enough for ear muffs, studying for semester exams goes on. E. Shattler reviews M. Burnham for her sophomore English test.

L I F E

N. MARTIN begins her research theme for Special English.

PREPARATORY to making outlines, M. Sojourner and A. Sanborn deal out their card notes. C. Tichenor supervises.

Approximately forty seniors are enrolled in Special English, a course offered for the first time at Boone High School.

During the past summer, former Principal R. Earl Kipp organized the new course to give additional experience to college preparatory students doing superior work in English. Selection of students was based upon past records, tests and recommendations.

The course carries a minimum of home work and in no way replaces English IV. Primarily stressing laboratory writing, it includes an intensive study and preparation of the long research theme. Provision is made for the reading of neglected classics and the using of special reference aids in the library.

CAREFUL documentation of themes brings a sense of pride to A. Price and J. Newsom.

STUDENT

A DIFFICULT DECISION seems to face N. Harmon at one of the classroom Christmas parties. T. Hobby, B. Craft, B. Nabors, A. Sigal and R. Byland hope she will walk under the mistletoe.

STARTING THE DAY right by giving devotionals in his first period class is J. Connell.

HOLDING THE LARGE HEART are the King and Queen of the Sophomore Heart Hop, A. Smith and J. Gatewood, while court members pose with them. L. to R. J. Brown, B. Mayo, S. Huckel, J. Gatewood, J. Anderson, L. Crawford. Row 2: J. Jones, H. Cole, A. Smith, H. Carroll, M. Ellis.

LIFE

STUDENTS RETURN to their classrooms after an auditorium period.

"EXCUSED OR UNEXCUSED?" is the question these students face when they return to school after their absence. Mrs. Hyer, dean of girls, and Mr. Baynes, dean of boys, carefully check all excuses.

WHEEL CLUB INITIATES—L. Banks, V. Harden and J. Thomas—obligingly sing "Hound Dog" for their superiors, D. Shaus, B. Eldridge and J. Albert.

STUDENT

ALL IS QUIET in Miss McMakin's U. S. History class as her students intently read their weekly newspaper to become more informed about the world situation.

A clearer understanding of democracy and our American heritage is the objective of U. S. History. In addition to the textbook, students read current newspaper.

"The Crusades," "Magna Charta" and "United Nations" are familiar words to World History students. In the course of their study they cover the broad sweep of man's development from the time he depended upon a club to the present when jets thunder overhead.

Geography students readily agree that "it's a small world." Through the use of maps, globes and pictures they are able to bring into the classroom places which are thousands of miles away.

A MURAL—Olympus to Olympics—for Mrs. Lemon's World History class takes shape under the skillful fingers of B. Henderson, J. Caldwell, D. Justice and B. Turner.

THESE WORLD GEOGRAPHY students—L. Bass, J. Heim, E. Douglas, B. Bufkin, C. Bearden and B. Bayler—learn about the many countries and peoples of the changing world.

LIFE

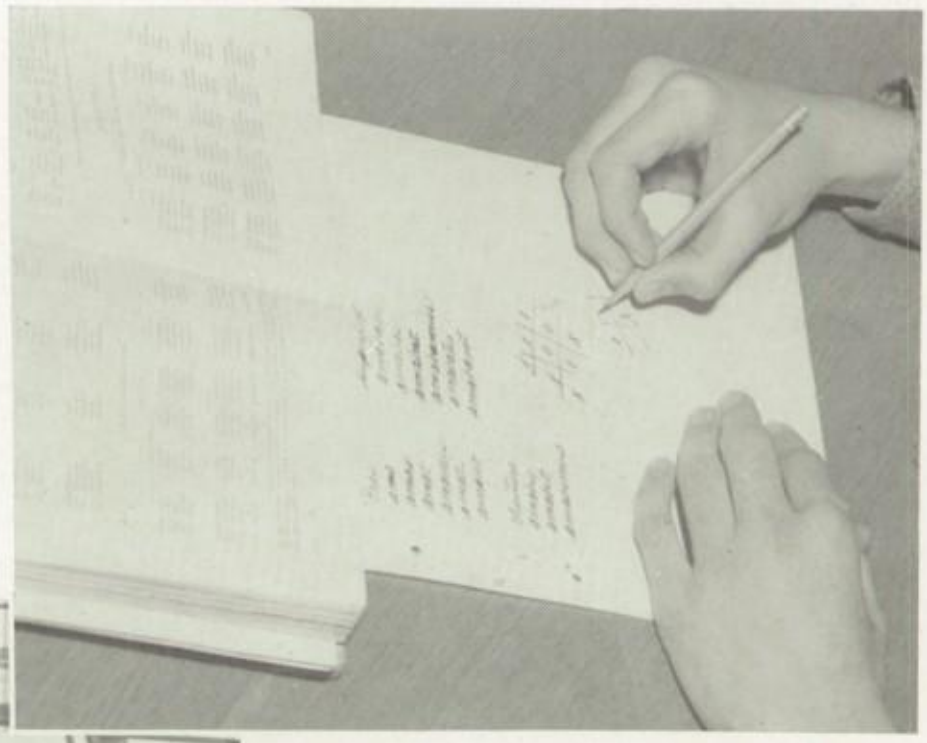
AKING BELIEVE he is dining in Sanborn's in Mexico City, B. Hardy re-ests "arroz con pollo" (chicken with rice) for his charming companion, Bodin. R. Cowen smiles as he writes the order in one of Miss Stone's anish classes.

"ALLONS ENFANTS DE LA PATRICE" sing French I students as they practice the French National Anthem. E. Levine points out the notes as Mr. Davison stands by to prompt.

Learning the fundamentals is the objective of Spanish I students, while Spanish II students concentrate on speaking. To add interest to class drills, situations like the one illustrated above are arranged.

Besides working for a solid foundation in the language, French I students sing in French and learn to order from a French menu. French II students, while improving their speaking, enrich their understanding of France and her people.

A supposedly dead language comes alive as Latin I students read simple stories in Roman Mythology. Caesar draws the attention of Latin II students who must give an hour-long lecture on some phase of Roman life.



PLAYING TIC, TAC, TOE seems to be "less strain on the brain" than conjugating in Latin "amo" (I love).

PREPARING the next day's Virgil lesson is not too hard if it is done in a group, as these third year Latin students of Mrs. Simpson discover. J. Ferrell, S. Goulland, M. Robertson, C. Mitchell, J. Nolan, B. Miller, P. Abernethy and D. Ricketts make up the study circle.

STUDENT

DEMONSTRATING how NOT to do it, L. Davis changes a ribbon for Mr. Larson.

THESE TYPING I STUDENTS in Mr. Smith's class keep their eyes on their copy as they practice for their goal of 70 wpm. J. Holliday, D. Shockley, R. Stout and R. Huff (rear) realize that the best qualified graduates get the best positions in Orlando offices.

TAKING DICTATION from Mr. Johnson, assistant principal, O. E. McGee, his student secretary, puts into practice her shorthand knowledge.

O. E. McGEE (directly in front of the teacher), along with B. Vandenhoogen, takes dictation at 100 wpm. from Mrs. Tinkler in one of her Shorthand II classes.

LIFE

Fingers moved swiftly as students started their five and ten-minute timed writings. The ultimate goal is 60 words a minute with no errors. (Easier said than done!) Unless these qualities—accuracy and speed—are present, the typist is worthless.

Pens flew as shorthand students doodled brief forms in the air while they strive to pass their 80-word test. Even though constant dictation was given to assure accuracy, Transcription Day often found students unable to read their shorthand notes.

Assets=Liabilities+Proprietorship. This is the fundamental bookkeeping equation which bookkeeping students must learn. After having completed a course in bookkeeping, students are able to plan budget systems, make out their own income tax, and apply the principles they have learned on practically any job.

"Earning while learning" is the objective of the members of D. C. T. classes. These students attend school four periods and work in the afternoon. They gain valuable on-the-job experience while getting their high school education.

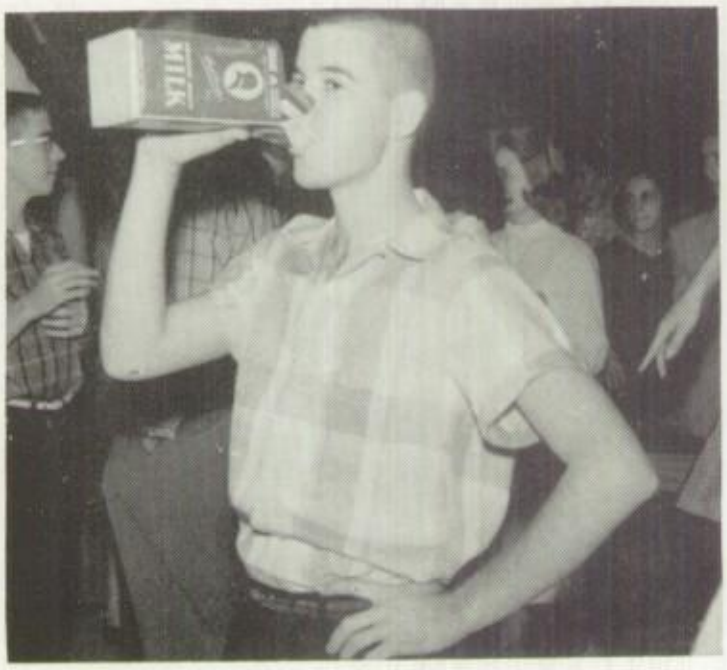
F. BUZZAIRD and P. Pittman start their bookkeeping cycle by making the opening entry in the General Journal.

BY DISPLAYING his stainless steel wares enticingly, G. Baker— D. C. T. student—attempts to lure a customer.

STUDENT

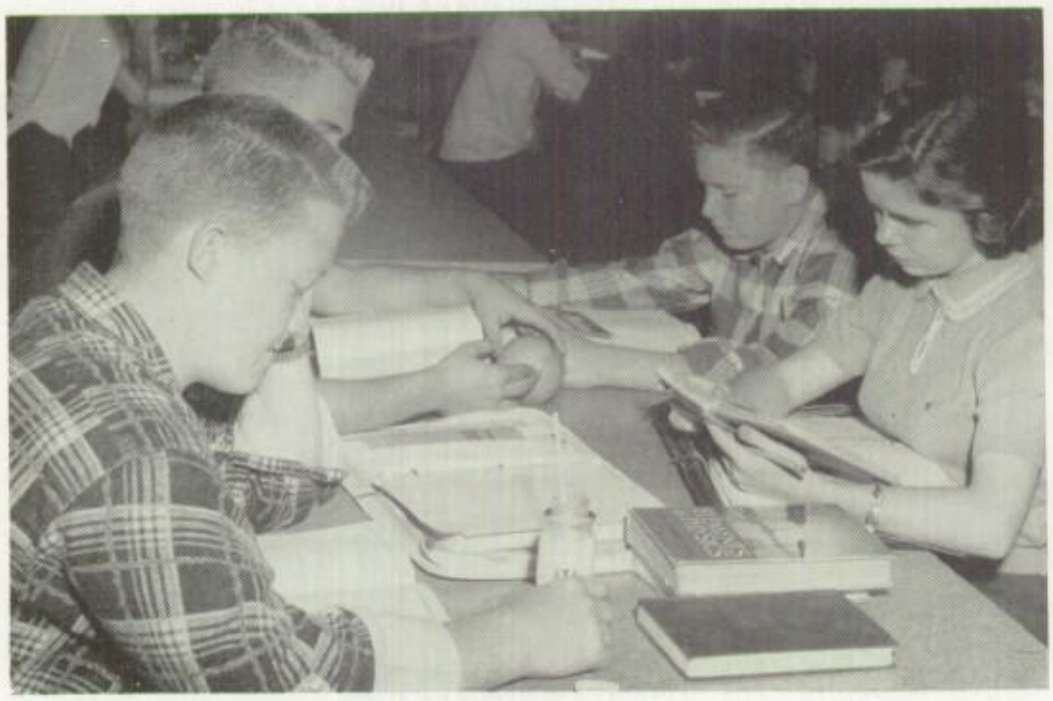
THE MELODIER QUARTET—G. Taylor, P. Aylor, N. Young, and N. Young—entertain at an assembly.

ALL IN ONE GULP, C. Moore downs a quart of milk.



STUDENTS WAIT patiently in line to take advantage of free chest X-rays.

THESE STUDENTS RUSH to finish their homework in the cafeteria before school begins. W. Grothe and M. Compton are really concentrating.



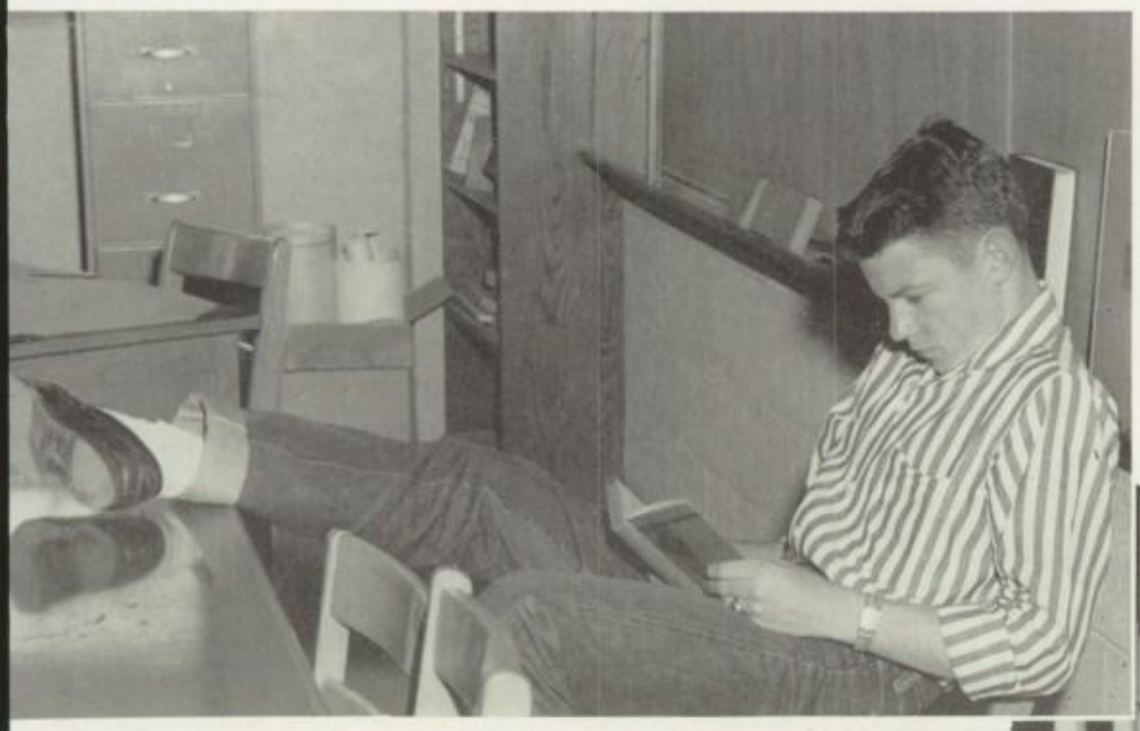
SWEETHEART of the Wheel Club, M. Lee, surely is a "sweetheart."

LIFE

"I could have danced all night!"

FEELING LIKE A CINDERELLA, J. Martin admires the dress she has just made.

D. BROCK IS ENGROSSED in his book while the rest of the school goes to a movie at the end of the semester.



"BUT YOU CAN'T DO THAT," cries B. Dowdell to E. Jones as they prepare to leave on a Key Club hayride.

STUDENT

MEMBERS of the second band report for rehearsal.

MISS McCALL acquaints sophomores with the wonders to be found in the library.

MR. RUMPF shows D. Hanson how a passage should be executed as the other members of the orchestra watch and listen.

LIFE

THE A CAPPELLA CHORUS assembles for one of its many appearances before Orlando audiences.

MELODIERS. Row 1: A. Starling, G. Taylor, P. Coate, A. Christensen, J. Schankweiler, M. Meloon, Mr. Mallard. Row 2: B. Viehman, M. Earley, C. Kitchens (business manager), J. Crowley, N. Young, N. Young. Row 3: A. Robinson, S. Lockerman, P. Aylor (treasurer), F. Flowers, (secretary), B. Taylor. Row 4: B. Rogers, N. Teague, J. Hunt, R. Drake (president), D. McCracken, R. Forguson (vice-president).

USING GESTURES and voice inflection, T. Hobby gives a talk in Mr. Fague's Basic Speech class while classmates, R. Gresham, B. Traughber and J. Bumby take notes.

STUDENT

"JUICY APPLES, filled with brown sugar and butter and delicately baked, will be a delicious lunch," so think C. Craighead and C. Smith. These girls are having their first cooking lesson in Mrs. Hinson's Home Economics I class.

NOT ONLY can these Home Economics students, T. Mott and A. Pruitt, make a cherry pie, but they can sew a fancy seam, too.

EATING the first full-course meal which they prepared in Mrs. Dowdell's class are J. Newsom, T. Brown, S. Thetford and A. Steinberg.

TRYING THEIR HAND at caring for a real baby in Mrs. Watson's class, J. Weaver and J. Peaden seem to be enjoying their assignment.

MECHANICAL DRAWING students discover that they need deft fingers for this exacting work. Mr. Martin stands ready to assist. Row 1: R. Gombert, L. Harvey. Row 2: D. Smothers, R. Thompson, G. Purcell, T. Breakfield, B. Jones. Row 3: B. Traughber, R. Gill, B. Newton. Row 4: J. Schricker and Mr. Martin.

"LET'S GET THIS TIGHT," cautions T. Mastropoli in Mr. Matthew's Auto Mechanics class. E. Stair, W. Kirby and R. Schnoebelen assist willingly in this popular course.

PRACTICING AFTER SCHOOL for the Car Rodeo, these Driver Training students develop skills that are the envy of many adults. Mr. Stith instructs M. Seiple, B. Mandell, J. Gisler, B. Puck, R. Kinnie, D. Jones and B. Metcalf.

BECAUSE of the over-crowded conditions, these Driver Education students must have their class in the back hall of the 100-building. Here they view a movie on ways to avoid accidents.

TORCH SOCIETY

Stresses True Scholarship

To bridge the gap between the Junior and the National Honor Society is the purpose of the Torch Society. In order to accomplish this aim, each member is required to maintain a B average. If for two six-week periods his grades fall below the minimum, he is automatically suspended.

Encouraged by Mrs. Ruth Byers, students try hard to stay in the organization.

Two years ago the Boone Chapter of Quill and Scroll was formed for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievement in journalism. To become a member a student must be in the upper third of his class, he must have done superior work in some phase of journalism and he must be recommended by his adviser.

IT IS EASY to understand the beam on the faces of J. Thurmond, E. Newton and N. Martin as they are tapped for membership in the National Honor Society by M. Lee, J. Newsom and A. Steinberg.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Upholds High Ideals

Suppressed excitement pervaded the auditorium as N.H.S.'ers went down into the audience to tap students for the highly coveted invitation into the organization. With scholarship, leadership, service and character as the requisites for membership in the National Honor Society, the inductees were chosen by the voting of the faculty.

As a special project to benefit the entire school, members, under the direction of Mrs. Irene Miller, worked after hours compiling information for the Boone Student Directory.

FRENCH CLUB

Learns French Customs

"Je prendrai le filet mignon," might have been the order given when members of the French Club ordered an authentic French dinner at L'Auberge restaurant. Besides enjoying important social events, students gave a play entirely in French at the annual French Convention at Rollins College. As a money making project the club sold brownies on the campus.

Through their projects and club activities these students came to have a better understanding of France, its people and its customs.

PAN-AM LEAGUE

Appreciates Spanish Neighbors

"Save your filler bands for a radio!" is the familiar cry of the Pan-American League. Members cut out "Blue Horses," "Southern Maids" and "Crusaders" by the thousands in an effort to secure free radios for all the classrooms.

Lead by their president, R. Ibarguen, and adviser, Miss Ann Stone, students carry out other projects to further Inter-American unity and friendship.

Only after passing a Latin examination are students admitted into Laeti Latini. Administered by Mrs. Nobie Simpson, sponsor, the test makes for a select membership.

At the monthly meetings students participate in programs to supplement classroom study of Roman life and to help prepare themselves for the national examination in Latin.

"THIS IS GOOD for energy," says Mrs. Kingsbury, adviser, as she offers candy to J. Kasper. G. Gatewood and G. Seltzer also know that a great deal of energy is required to put out an annual the size of the 1957 BOONE LEGEND.

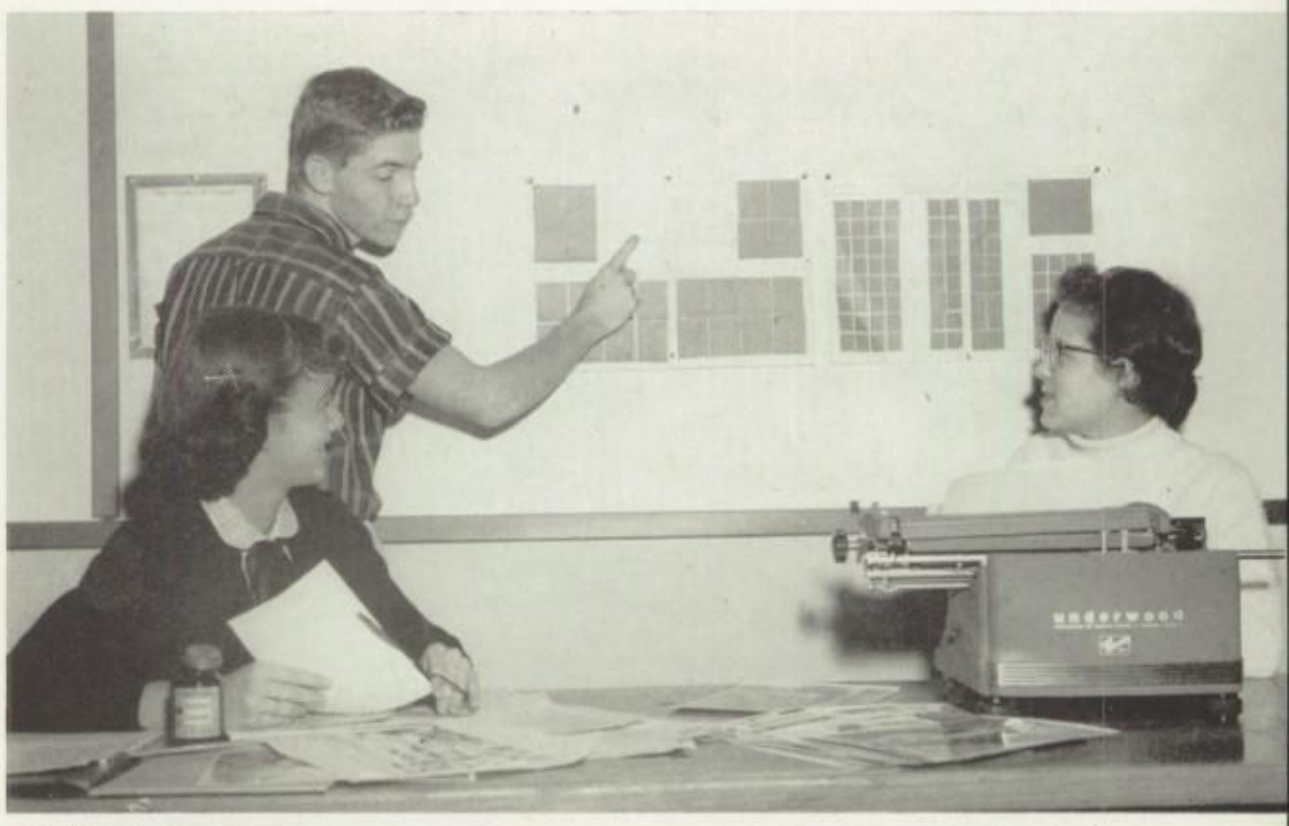
BOONE LEGEND

Records Deeds and Memories of Year

"At F. S. U. Press Institute last summer, Dean Campbell said that Boone's annual is among the best in the state. How are we going to live up to that reputation this year?" asked D. Ricketts at the first meeting of the LEGEND staff.

As the result of many vigorous discussions, the group decided that the 1957 theme should portray the spirit of the Boone Brave in such a way as to further endear the Indian to all who attend Wm. R. Boone High School. To that end the adviser and each staff member actually worked, in addition to class time, nearly 200 hours after school and on Saturdays to produce a book worthy of its underlying theme and of the school.

TO MEET THE DEADLINE February 15, D. Ricketts, editor-in-chief, and M. Kraft, photographic coordinator, work feverishly after school planning pictures.



M. HILLIER POINTS out advantages of combining senior portraits and senior directory. P. Sayle and O. E. McGee agree teasingly.

"TWO HEADS are still better than one," T. Phelps and S. Frick think, as they discuss cropping and reduction of the football pictures.

MR. LARSON, LEGEND adviser for subscriptions and advertising, smiles approvingly as he realizes seniors are first to ring the bell in LEGEND sales. K. Baker, business manager, complettes the percentage chart while her assistant, W. Wiley, J. Pugh and R. Phillips, watch.

"THE NEXT GAME is next week," says D. Clanton as L. Heiser writes up the last game and E. Chaney and E. Abbott watch.

TO COMPOSE clear, eye-catching headlines is the goal in mind as J. White, W. Wiley, R. Sojourner and B. Viehman set the phototype with which they work.

HI LIGHTS

Informs Students of Campus Activities

News, news and more news! The BOONE HI LIGHTS, the bi-monthly school newspaper, provides an outlet for aspiring journalists and keeps the student body abreast of news concerning club activities, the faculty, fellow students and school events. Staff members, under the supervision of Mr. W. H. Cochenour, gather and edit news, solicit advertising, put the paper to press and then sell it.

During the year the HI LIGHTS staff, as well as the LEGEND staff, sent delegates to the district meeting of the Florida Scholastic Press Conference at St. Petersburg and to the State Conference at Gainesville.

WORKING together as a team with one common goal in mind is aptly carried out as the staff assembles to compose notes. L. to R.: J. White, P. Barnes, D. Clanton, M. Albright, S. Komisar, D. Capley, W. Wiley, B. Viehman.

FIGURING THE LAYOUT for every square inch of HI LIGHTS can be quite a task for even the greatest mathematician as S. Komisar, R. Sojourner, D. Capley and J. Carr discover.

WITH THE CONSTANT HELP of Mr. Cochenour, M. Albright, J. Carr and R. Gaffe learn more about newspaper production.

This outstanding musical organization, under the capable direction of Mr. Law Mallard, is composed of 250 boys and girls who are especially interested in music and singing. Their objectives are to raise the standards of performance and of public taste and to develop character. This year their projects were the "Messiah," the fall and spring concerts and the district and state festivals.

The A Cappella Chorus, a select vocal group of the Glee Club, presents programs for school assemblies, civic organizations and churches. Among their public appearances this year have been the Knowles Memorial Chapel at Rollins College, the Florida State Music Teachers' Convention and the Florida State Music Festival.

BOONE BAND

Provides Entertainment for School and Community

On many occasions the Boone Band, with its limitless enthusiasm, has bolstered school spirit. It did perfect formations in the colorful half-time shows during the football season—proof of the worth of summer band classes.

This group not only pleased the student body but the community as well with its music ranging from inspiring melodies to jazzy tunes.

At the district and state contests, the Boone Band again won top honors in performance and in precision marching.

F. F. A.

Cultivates Farming Interests

The F. F. A., often said to be the "backbone of America," has been one of the busiest clubs at Boone High School this year. Occasionally these boys took time off from tending their gardens, building their irrigation system and studying parliamentary procedure to enjoy the music of their own string band.

These "future farmers" not only take complete charge of their own gardens, but they enter tractor-driving contests and give an annual Father-Son banquet.

This year they attended the Florida State Fair at Tampa where they judged cattle, chickens and hogs. As a result, the Boone F. F. A. Chapter brought back top honors in meat judging.

"Learning to do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live, Living to Serve," is the motto of some 155 Ag boys. They LEARN in the classroom, where they study citrus and cattle farming procedure. They DO by planting and cultivating their large garden tract. (This year they built an irrigation system.) They EARN by selling the produce they raise and use the money to finance their projects. They SERVE by using their many shop skills to build new equipment for the school, such as benches and tables.

WHILE MR. HENLEY TEACHES soil content, B. Bryson, G. Foxbower, R. Freeman, B. Thomas and R. Keene take a well-deserved break.

PROUD OF THEIR ACHIEVEMENT, Mr. Henley congratulates R. Singletary, K. Landes and D. Halcrow on winning first place in the State Meat Judging Contest.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Governs School Activities

Five hundred delegates! Where to house them? How to entertain them? These were only a few of the problems that the Student Council faced in planning for the N. A. S. C. convention in March. Through the untiring work of the group and the guidance of Mr. Vaghan Magarian and Mrs. Mary Bailey, sponsors, Boone was able to carry through successfully its ambitious project. For the first time it was host to all Student Councils in Florida.

This was by no means their only undertaking. They sponsored dances, clean-up campaigns and Howdy Week in an effort to help govern school activities for the benefit of all who attend Boone.

STARDUST PLAYERS

Act for Pleasure

Primarily a fun group, the Stardust Players is an organization designed for those working toward membership in Thespians. For its major project this year the club prepared and presented at an assembly program the dramatic play "The Valiant." One of the highlights in the year's social activities was the initiation party. Those being initiated were required to arrive at the gathering completely disguised; if recognized, they were punished.

"Act well your part; therein all honor lies." This is the motto of the National Thespian Society whose purpose it is to promote the advancement of dramatic arts in secondary schools.

The Thespians participate in a number of activities, including attending drama clinics, assisting with the production of plays and helping to plan the entertainment each year for Color Day.

RADIO CLUB

Broadcasts News of Boone

"Have scripts handy and be ready for cues," comes the call from the control room at station WDBO. After hours of work, these are the rewarding moments for Radio Club members at their weekly show.

Under the capable direction of Mrs. Louise Tellez, students in this club learn the art of writing and preparing scripts down to the final second. Eventually they announce and broadcast an entire radio program.

WORKING in the control room at WDBO are D. Philips, N. Martin, L. Snell and D. Snell.

N. F. L.

Practices Platform Decorum

Furthering speaking ability is the aim of the members of the National Forensic League. One of the busiest organizations, Boone's N. F. L. chapter was represented at District and State Student Congresses and at numerous speech and debate tournaments. Gaining membership in N. F. L. is an honor because it takes long hours of work earning points by participating at student congresses. New members must also complete a study course which is administered by the old members and the sponsor, Mrs. Louise Tellez.

ASSOCIATE MEMBERS of N. F. L. proudly display their emblem. Row 1: K. Bennett, J. Meredith, D. Rudy, S. Staggs, A. Hall. Row 2: D. Byland, R. Cohen, R. Ibarguen, H. Albert, W. Derrick, D. Snell.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU

Practices Public Speaking

"If a man is to exercise his freedom of speech effectively, he must be able to speak well," so think members of the Speakers' Bureau. To accomplish their aim, they try to increase their vocabularies, correct their grammar and eliminate defects in their speech. They gain practice by speaking before the student body and community gatherings.

With the presidential election the big event of the year, members of this group served the community by being "precinct observers" and by counting, tabulating and phoning in results from the polls.

". . . Some books are to be read only in parts, other to be read"—completely. The library assistants know this fact well for they demonstrate their love of books by working in the library before and after school and during class periods. Mending books, working behind the desk and keeping the shelves in order are some of their duties.

In November during Book Week, the group served apple pie and coffee to the faculty. Two members of the Club traveled to Leesburg for a week-end meeting of all high school librarians of the state.

GREGG WRITERS

Attain Speed and Accuracy

Raising the scholastic standards of shorthand students and encouraging more your people to become really top-notch secretaries is the purpose of the Gregg Writers Club. Besides their projects of selling Boone pencils and Christmas corsages, members offer secretarial service to the faculty.

Because "all work and no play" makes even the best secretary dull, these future amanuenses took times off from their dictation and typing for the induction of new member at the T. G. Lee Dairy Golden Room.

FUTURE NURSES

Train Early for Future Careers

Taking pulses, reading charts and bathing patients were the duties of the members of the Future Nurses Club when they worked on Saturday mornings at the Orange Memorial Hospital. Before these girls could work, they completed a training course and then received their aqua uniforms. At the hospital they worked with student nurses and learned a great deal about nursing in a hospital.

In January the club, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Carlton and Mrs. Joseph O'Malley, sponsored a cookie sale to raise money for attending conventions and participating in various other activities. Through their work in this organization, these girls are better prepared for their chosen career.

Working feverishly to collect the small articles requested, the Junior Red Cross realized its objective of helping others. Under the direction of Miss Dorothy McMakin, members of this club cooperated with the local Red Cross Chapter by filling many boxes to be sent to foreign countries.

These budding young scientists, under the direction of Mr. Richard Jolley and Miss Sarah Clark, met once a month to discuss and increase their knowledge of science. To augment their learning, they took field trips; and as a project they planned to present Boone's Science Department with a Geiger counter.

"Drive safely; the life you save may be one of the faculty!" Because of the present scarcity of teachers, this thought might well be in the minds of Boone Safety Club members.

Renders Various Services

"I hereby pledge to develop my highest qualities of leadership." These are the opening words of the Wheel Club pledge which states clearly the objective of the organization.

From the first to the last day of school, Wheel Club members are busy working on one of their many projects. They usher at business men's meetings, send representatives to Rotary Club meetings, sponsor a movie the last day of the first semester and collect canned goods for needy families at Christmas.

"Take your seat and please remain quiet until I have finished checking the roll." This familiar phrase is the dream of 18 girls in the Future Teachers' Club. Under the supervision of Mrs. Lemons, Miss Arant and Mrs. Dowdell, these girls are striving to decrease the shortage of teachers in Florida.

This year the Future Teachers' Club played an important role in the local educational program. By welcoming interns and observing in elementary schools, these girls took their initial steps in becoming teachers of tomorrow.

MIER TRI-HI-Y

Leads By Serving Others

Girls of the Mier Tri-Hi-Y learned what a feeling of self-satisfaction can be gained by aiding those in need. Under the direction of Mrs. Marian DeWitt, they prepared baskets of canned foods and bundles of clothes for needy families at Christmas. The club also gave a dance from which the proceeds went to the Youth Center Fund.

Their purpose is to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character. With this creed in mind, these girls are constantly striving to carry out the highest principles of Christian living.

BRUCE TRI-HI-Y

Advocates Christian Living

Fall! Winter! Spring! Each season found the girls of the Anne Bruce Tri-Hi-Y engaged in one or more of their numerous projects. Under the guidance of Miss Mary Bryan, these girls held a cookie sale in the school lunchroom, sold tickets for the purchase of Christmas trees at the Optimist lot and filled Christmas baskets for needy families. Their final project of the year was the raising of funds to send an underprivileged child to summer camp.

Encourages Fellowship

Working on worthwhile projects while maintaining Christian fellowship is the aim of Hi-Y members. This year they planned to purchase the gold letters, B. H. S., for the auditorium curtain, execute a safety project and sponsor numerous dances and hayrides.

Their meetings are planned to be both entertaining and beneficial. Speakers from the professions and different branches of the armed services help members make wise decisions about future careers.

Under the direction of Mr. Bruce McLin and capable officers, the Hi-Y strives to exert a good influence throughout the home, school and community.

CAMPUS CRUSADERS

Fosters Good Fellowship

Campus Crusaders offers a friendly welcome to Boone students who wish to join the club. At its Tuesday evening meetings at the Youth Center, planned recreation is provided in the new recreation room. Often joint meetings are held with the Bible Clubs of Edgewater and Winter Park. The club is also active at the Orlando "Youth for Christ" meetings.

The main projects of the Campus Crusaders are participating in the national Bible Quiz; Destination Spook, the annual Halloween party; a camp retreat during the Christmas holidays and a visit from the nationally known evangelist, Billy Graham, and his famous team.

"Wholesome fun and Christian companionship are essentials that build character," club members believe.

With keeping the records up to date on the juke box, having fruitcake sales, a fun filled hayride, plus a turkey trot, a steak fry, and a banquet, the Civitan Club had a very active year. To aid new students at Boone at the beginning of the year the Civitan boys set up information booths. In rendering this service the group decreased the number of lost people wandering around school.

During the practice evacuation the boys again made their presence known. At different points on the grounds they handed evacuation cards and orange crepe paper to each of the drivers. Through these varied projects they carried out their program of helping themselves, their school and their community.

Although this is the first year of its existence, the Art Club has already proved itself a competent group. Always on hand to serve, whether the request be for a simple poster or more complicated art work, members won honors for Boone in the community lighting and display contest at Christmas.

Working under the leadership of their president, R. Stange, and sponsor, Mrs. Louise Tellez, this enthusiastic group has fulfilled its purpose of gaining appreciation of and practice in design.

"Programs! Programs! Read all about our football players!" was the cry of many of the G. A. A. girls as they sold programs at the football games. To promote school spirit and to further interest in sports, they visited hospitals, went camping and sold Boone sweat shirts.

Encouraged by their sponsor, Miss Judith Walker, the girls organized a bowling team and received free lessons every Wednesday. Several times during the year they traveled to various schools in Central Florida for a Play Day.

Boost Team and Crowd Morale

"Ready oh, let's go!" yelled Boone's spirited cheerleaders. They delighted students and other spectators at contests by their enthusiam and precision cheering.

During the summer months the squad sold approximately $2,000 in advertising for the football programs. A portion of the money was used for their expenses to out-of-town games.

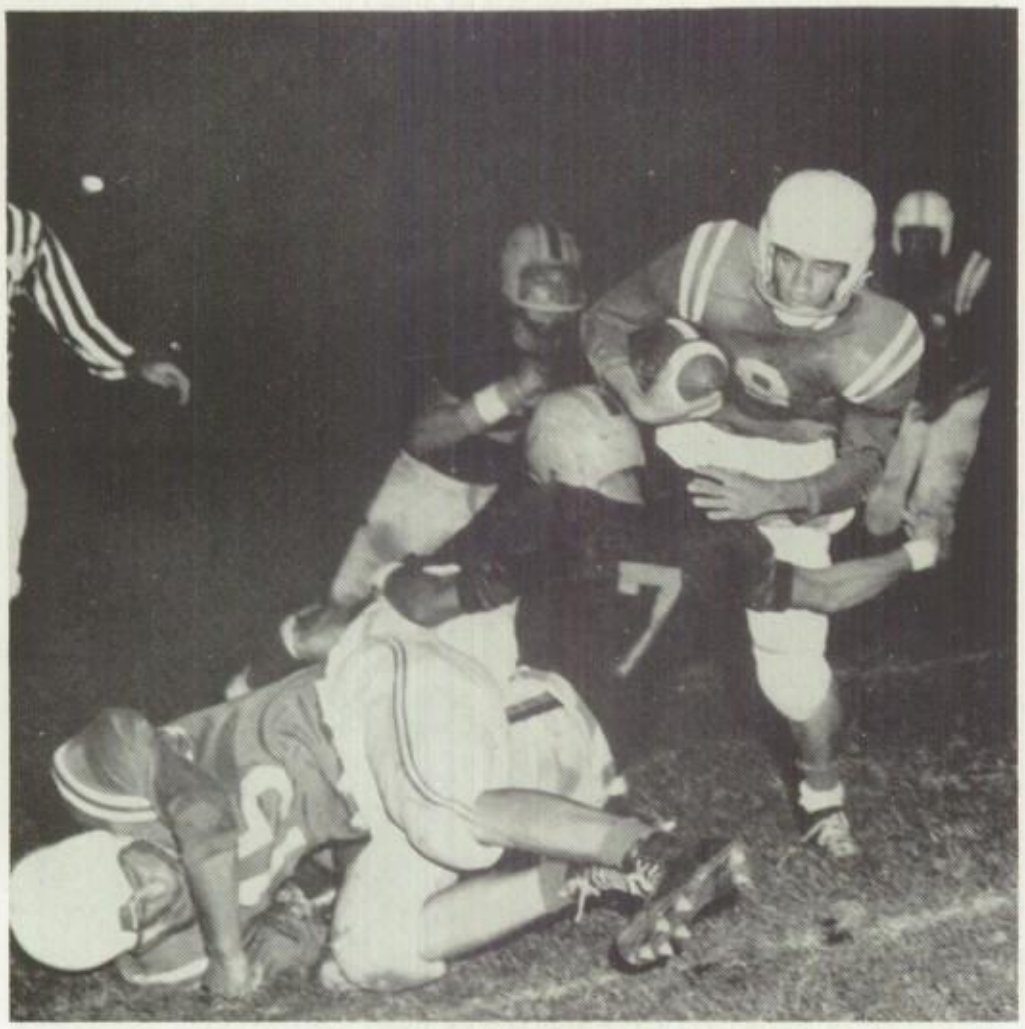
I Seek Strength



BOONE'S SEASONED halfback C. Nimnicht (9) is stopped short by a Winter Park tackler, despite efforts of Brave blocker, M. Ellis (15).

BOONE vs. LAKELAND

The small inexperienced Boone Braves got off to a most discouraging start for the '56-'57 season. The Braves fell before the mighty efforts of the Lakeland Dreadnaughts, 33-7. Boone was quiet the first half, while Lakeland tallied three times. When the second half started, Boone received the kickoff and promptly marched 53 yards to score. Halfback C. Nimnicht's twenty-five-yard run high-lighted the drive with M. Ellis carrying the ball the last five yards to pay-dirt. Except for Boone's lone score Lakeland completely dominated the game.

BOONE vs. MAINLAND

Tasting defeat for the second time this season, the Boone Braves were beaten by the Mainland High Buccaneers of Daytona Beach. The starting whistle blew with Boone's kicking to the Buc's. On the first play from scrimmage, a Buccaneer ran 59 yards to score. With the touchdown and conversion, Mainland led 7-0. Boone's offense failed to click; and the Buc's, getting the ball on downs, scored again with minutes left in the first quarter. The second quarter saw Mainland once again cross the goal line to boost their lead to 19-0. M. Ellis and C. Nimnicht, who had been running well all night, sparked a Boone scoring drive as the third quarter ended. Boone's attempt for the extra point was missed; thus they fell 19-6.

ASSISTANT football coaches B. McLin and E. Harden look over a scouting report with Head Coach Gilmartin.

BOONE vs. PENSACOLA

Finding the victory column an elusive goal, Boone dropped its third straight start, being defeated by the Pensacola High Tigers of Pensacola, 26-6. The victors had little trouble in running around and passing over a weak Boone defense. Pensacola scored once in the first quarter on a 60-yard run. They tallied twice more in the second quarter to stretch their lead to a 19-0 at halftime. For the entire third quarter and half of the last, the Braves and Tigers played on even terms; but as the game neared its climax, Pensacola scored once more, making it 26-0. With minutes left to play M. Barnes tossed a pass to F. Edwards for the lone Boone score. The game ended a little later with Boone behind 26-6.

BOONE vs. MIAMI EDISON

Finding the manpower of Edison too much to cope with, Boone dropped its fourth game of the season 41-0. Edison started fast and by halftime had a 21-0 lead. Coach Gilmartin must have revived the spirit of the Braves at the mid-period because Boone held Edison scoreless in the third quarter. The Miami team's reserve strength and experience proved too much for the Braves to handle, running the final score to 41-0. Except for a small amount of good defensive play the Braves had little to cheer for.

BOONE vs. WINTER PARK

This was one of Boone's most exciting games all season. Winter Park scored first, but a determined Boone team came back to tie the score 6-6 at halftime. Again in the second half Winter Park was the first to score, and with the conversion they led 13-6. Winter Park, thinking they had the game won, was surprised when Boone's sophomore HB, H. Cole, got loose for 6 more Brave points. The crowd became calm as Boone tried but missed the PAT. Winter Park's 13-12 lead proved enough to win the game.

BOONE vs. PALM BEACH

M. Van Trump's passing prevented a shut-out as Boone was whipped by West Palm Beach 26-6. West Palm scored in each of the first two quarters thus having a half-time lead of 13-0. After halftime West Palm added 13 more points to make it 26-0. One of Boone's drives ended on the 6-inch line and the only other got Boone a touchdown. B. Hamilton made the lone Boone score in a game which was most disappointing to Boone rooters.

BOONE vs. OCALA

With the spirit of homecoming in the air, the Boone Braves won a sparkling victory over the Ocala Wildcats, 13-7. Forgetting all past performances the Braves upset the powerful Ocala team. Boone started fast in the first quarter, marching 34 yards in six plays to score, the key play being a 16-yard pass from quarterback M. Van Trump to end H. Chapman. J. Lane's conversion was perfect, making the score 7-0 for Boone. Just before the half Ocala was threatening to score, when an alert Brave, S. Trulock, scooped up a Wildcat fumble and raced 85 yards to paydirt, making the half-time score 13-0, Boone. After the half, Ocala stormed back for a third-quarter touchdown, but the Braves combined good play in the clutch with a fighting spirit to down the visitors 13-7.

BOONE vs. LANDON

Seeming to have played themselves out in their victory over Ocala, the Brave team was beaten by Landon of Jacksonville 34-0. Except for a little running by halfbacks H. Cole and B. Hamilton the Boone offense was stopped in its tracks; and the defense gave Landon little opposition. The boys from Jacksonville scored 20 points in the first half; and their subs, 14 more after halftime. The strong running of Landon backs proved too much for Coach Gilmartin's boys.

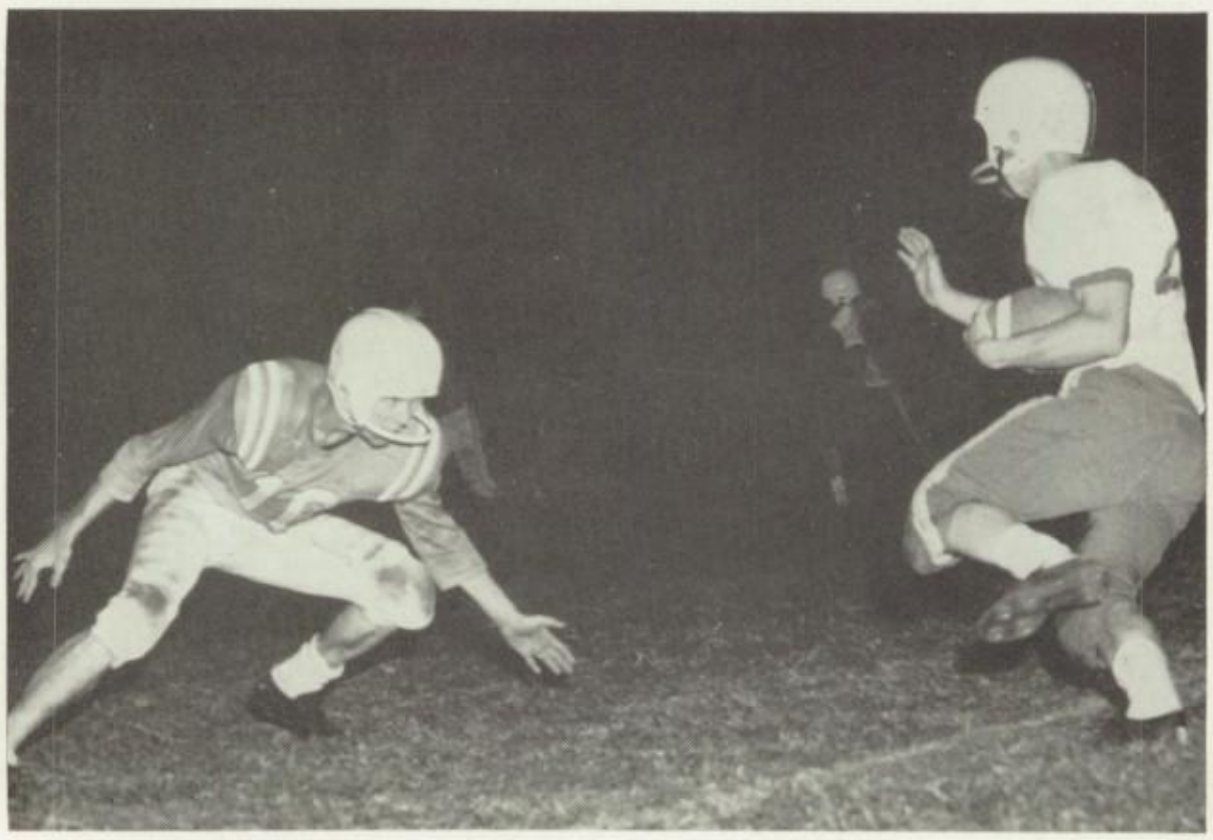
BOONE'S GOAL LINE STAND fails despite a gallant effort by H. Chapman (34) and other Boone linemen.



M. VAN TRUMP (10), Boone's safety, closes in on an Edgewater back.

BOONE vs. PLANT

Plant's terrible Panthers clawed Boone nearly to death, trouncing the Braves 48-0. This was the worst beating ever given to a Boone team. The Panthers ripped huge holes in the Brave line and had little trouble running up a 28-0 half-time score. Playing their reserves the second half, the Panthers continued to roll, tacking on 20 more points to make the final score 48-0. The main Boone offensive of the night was a drive to the Plant 12-yard line in the third quarter. The big play in the drive for the Braves was a 31-yard pass completion from M. Van Trump to halfback B. Hamilton.

BOONE vs. EDGEWATER

After the opening whistle a fired-up Brave team ran over the Edgewater eleven during the first quarter but failed to score. At the start of the second period Boone made their first score after B. Hamilton carried the ball most of the way to the goal, and M. Ellis swept end for 6 points. Boone's defense held and their next offensive netted them 3 more points on a perfect fieldgoal by J. Lane. In the waning moments of the same quarter, Edgewater scored on a 37-yard pass to make the score stand 9-6 at half time.

After the half it was a different game. Edgewater's defense tightened, and their offense began to function. The Eagles roared back for 3 touchdowns to win, 19-9, and to leave Boone with a 1-9 record for the season.

Boone's Junior Varsity had a successful season as they compiled a 2-2-1 record. The baby Braves started off with Lakeland's J. V.'s, whom they tied 6-6. Lakeland drew first blood in the second period with a 69-yard TD run. No more scoring was done until Boone ace halfback, G. Stepp, tied the score 6-6 with a fourth-quarter tally. The Brave's next foe was Daytona Mainland whom they stomped 18-0, scoring all their points in the first half.

The first home game proved to be the most exciting, as the Braves overcame a 12-0 lead to defeat the Ocalan's, 13-12. Again it was Stepp who saved the day on a brilliant TD run with 30 seconds in the game remaining.

In the last two games of the season, Boone suffered the only losses. The first was a lopsided 40-20 defeat by the Lyman Varsity; and the other was a 12-7 heartbreaker to the Edgewater J. V.'s. In the final game the heavy Eagles scored a last-minute TD to down the Braves.

MINOR SPORTS

Swimming and Tennis Provide Variety

If a student at Boone is not busy with school work or a major sport, he may try out for tennis or swimming—the two offerings in the minor sports program.

Last year's swimming team was active, having entered three meets with Winter Park and twice going to Daytona Beach to swim against Mainland.

The 1956 tennis team, besides beating both Ocala and Mainland, had the highpoint of the season when they placed second in the Big Ten. This year's team again should be strong with many experienced boys returning.

Boone's physical education classes for boys stresses good sportsmanship as well as physical welfare. Work and play are carefully combined to provide wholesome, worthwhile entertainment. Bruce McLin, physical education director, arranges many games and contests in athletics, including football, basketball, track and softball. Other sports which are available are weight-lifting, ping-pong, paddle ball, rope climbing and tumbling.

Taking advantage of Florida weather, the girls play outside in the fall. There they are challenged by such games as football, paddle tennis and croquet. Winter finds them running the boys out of the warm gym and trying their hand at volleyball, basketball and tumbling. In the spring again the girls move outside to wind up the year playing softball.

SUMMARY OF '57 SEASON

The ball-handling Boone Braves of 1957 will be remembered by basketball lovers in the Central Florida area. These boys not only impressed the students and faculty, but especially opposing coaches and local sports writers. Coach Bruce McLin brought with him from Ohio a type of basketball that had never before been played near Orlando except by the Harlem Globetrotters. The Brave team was noted for its classic warm-ups which highlighted such acts as first done by Goose Tatum.

As the season started, the Braves whipped Sanford, 83-37; Bishop Moore, 52-50; and Ocala, 48-44, before losing their first game to Winter Park, 62-56. Their next action was in the Christmas Tangerine Tournament held at Boone. They won the tourney after defeating Apopka, 51-42, and gaining revenge on Winter Park, 49-40. Later in the season they again beat Winter Park, 58-53. Losing a close game to Jax Jackson, 64-61, Boone came back the next night to stomp Jax Landon, 73-56. The Braves dropped a heart breaker to Lakeland, 57-56, but later avenged the lose 61-51.

C. McLEMORE (4) jumps center as Boone-Lakeland game starts.

Games

On their next two starts Boone played well to slaughter West Palm Beach, 78-37, and Miami Jackson, 75-59. The Brave quintet won the first Boone-Edgewater game, 61-49; but on their next meeting the Eagles upset Boone 60-49. Ocala evened up their loss to the Braves by beating them 57-55 in a double over-time. Boone journeyed to Jacksonville but should have stayed home, as they were beaten twice, first by Jax Lee, 80-60, then by Jax Landon, 52-51. The Braves came back to beat Coral Gables, 72-68, but suffered their worst defeat of the season to Miami Edison, 77-41.

K. Starcher proved to be the outstanding scorer for Boone, averaging about 18 points per game. Captain C. Wells scored about 15 points per game in addition to having a great deal of game leadership. C. McLemore and D. Smothers did most of the rebounding.

If the Braves pull themselves together, they should do well at the tournaments following the season.

C. WELLS (20) makes 2 points to put Edgewater further behind.

TRACK

These Boys Will Defend Boone's Big Ten Title

In Orlando when people think of track, they think of Boone. For the four years of the school's existence its runners have proved superior to those of other Central Florida high schools. Last year's team was so strong that it brought back to Boone the state Cross-Country Championship. It further highlighted the season by copping the Big Ten title.

Outstanding performers were co-captains C. Nye and J. Bergert.

The Braves won all the meets they entered in the regular season except for a third place in the Tampa Relays. Having a streak of bad luck, they lost their chance for second place at state but still finished fourth. The Boone boys pictured on this page should again represent Boone very well.

WITH COACH GILMARTIN are members of the cross-country team which placed second at the state meet. R. Forguson, D. Wangerin, C. Motl, D. Roberts.

BASEBALL

Baseball Is a Growing Sport at Boone

Coach John Fetner, in his one-year stay as the Boone baseball coach, directed the Braves to a 9-8 record. The Braves showed their skill when they whipped a strong Sanford team and conquered Edgewater 2 out of 3. Boone will miss the services of ace pitcher R. Abel, who had been hurling since he was a sophomore. To fill the shoes of D. Burroughs and B. Gordon will not be easy.

This season Coach Foti, Boone's athletic director, will take over the reins of the baseball team. With the services of T. Hobby, G. Maksi, K. Word, B. Brown, D. McCracken and E. Russell he too should have a winning year.

COACH GEORGE FOTI attentively watches an afternoon practice.

"WE JUST FINISHED basketball practice. Can you pick us up now, Mom?" G. Pitts calls home for a ride while R. Spychalski waits patiently.

AT ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR spots on the campus sophomores P. Cauley, V. Lee, M. Harrington, I. Cannon and J. Price enjoy their brief lunch hour.

R. GAFFE, JUNIOR CLASS PRESIDENT, must have come up with some "jolly ideas for a theme for the next junior dance according to the expressions on B. Dowdell, treasurer; L. Beck, secretary, and H. Chapman, vice-president.

THE JUNIORS

Serving as apprentices in the many phases of life at Boone, the Juniors of 1957 filled their 180 school days with a variety of activities. All of these activities, both curricular and extra-curricular, played their proportionate parts in helping Juniors develop sound character, good citizenship and true scholarship.

In the various classrooms Juniors learned to understand people and situations, to appreciate the demands which free people make upon life, to know and understand nature and the world about them, to think logically and to be self-reliant. They learned these fundamentals by doing a variety of things; for example taking care of a real live infant, judging beef cattle, typing abstracts, memorizing "The Gettysburg Address" and making an extensive research on the Romans.

The Juniors began their slate of social activities by sponsoring the Sweetheart Dance held in the Boone gym after the homecoming football game. Then at mid-term they gave a Record Hop which provided all the Boone Rock 'n' Rollers an opportunity to forget for an evening their cramming for the past week's hour-and-a-half-long semester examinations.

Presentation of their class play, "Maybe You're Wrong," proved that those Juniors taking part would develop very quickly from apprentices to full-fledged Thespians. Five curtain calls showed how well the packed auditorium received the performance.

When the second semester was well underway, there came a week in which the Junior boys were showered with all kinds of unusual attention as if they were Elvis Presley or at least a visiting prince. Junior girls opened doors for them, carried their books to class and otherwise openly vied for their favors. Climaxing the week of "chivalry in reverse," the girls both invited and escorted their dates to the Twirp Twirl.

The annual Junior Fashion Show again this year was characterized by superlatives—superlatives in both models and gowns. As the Junior models stepped expertly along the carpet, each one seemed lovelier and more poised than the preceding one. On the following Saturday Junior boys and girls worked side by side with Edgewater Juniors at Ivey's Day. In addition to gaining valuable experience in the art of salesmanship, they earned money for their class treasury. Like Macy's famous New York Department Store, they found that it takes patience and an understanding of psychology to put into actual practice the slogan, "The customer is always right."

Having for many weeks planned the elaborate Junior-Senior Prom—complete with corsages, evening clothes and a name band—the Juniors were able to make it the social event of the year. "Glamorous" is the word for it.

On June 7, 1957, the Juniors completed their apprenticeship and made their last contribution to their Senior-superiors. They ushered at graduation where they caught a glimpse into the future.

SHARE OF HONORS

SENIORS G. Seltzer and T. Phelps (seated in front) laughingly approve of J. Kasper's method of keeping the juniors working to make the Junior-Senior Prom the best ever. Juniors L. Gentry, S. Howard and W. Kasper take all this kidding good-naturedly.

"YES, that class change will be possible," advises Miss Mier, principal. J. Partlow awaits his turn to follow C. Smith for approval of his tentative next year's schedule.

THE SENIORS

FORM CLOSE FRIENDS DURING THREE YEARS

Someday, many years from now we shall open the 1957 Boone Legend to recall our high school days. Friendly faces, memorable moments, thrilling incidents and important decisions will again warm our hearts.

Our senior year was filled with fun, fads, exciting events in local and national politics and even some serious study. Most of the boys wore "flat top" haircuts and reveled in attending drag races. We all philosophized on the outcome of the presidential election; and, strangely enough, Florida again supported "Ike," the Republican candidate. Principal Kipp, who had skillfully guided our school from its very beginning in 1951, left us in January to become superintendent of public instruction for Orange County. We watched the Suez crisis intently, realizing that some of our boys would be called if our country became involved.

Ours was the largest class ever to be graduated from Boone. Classes were so large that a new wing of eight classrooms and an addition to the snack bar were built to meet the need for more space. We wondered what would happen to the enrollment when the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft Company moved to Orlando.

Elvis Presley was causing minor riots when he sang "Love Me Tender" that year. Rock 'n' roll became one of our favorite pastimes which we enjoyed at the dances held after the football games as well as at those sponsored by various school organizations.

Boone, Edgewater and Bishop Moore, in joint cooperation with the community, worked to raise $100,000 to build the Orlando Youth Center. Two members of our class, Ann Price and Carl Nimnicht, were flown to New York City to present momentos to Arthur Godfrey for his help in the drive to build the Youth Center.

Some of us entered the Voice of Democracy Contest which gave us a two-fold opportunity of realizing our blessings and of expressing verbally our priceless heritage. Even though none of us won first place that year, we were sincerely proud of all who entered.

The majority of us liked the challenge that school work offered; learning of current events, thinking out solutions to social problems and mastering fundamentals. No matter what our troubles were, we found our teachers able and willing to help us.

Among the many privileges which we enjoyed were "seniors first" at assembly; the senior breakfast with its ensuing fun of Color Day; and the Legend signing party in the cafeteria. We enjoyed also being dismissed from school one week early; yet most of us felt somewhat reluctant to leave our friends and alma mater behind us.

Taking our places in adult society both attracted and repelled us. When the hour actually arrived for us to say "goodby," we thought wistfully of our school life, wishing, "Oh, to be kids again!"

DIGNIFIED SENIORS become "kids" again on Color Day when they don pinafores and carry teddy bears. Enjoying "their day" are, Row 1: J. Albert, K. Melrose, H. Baker, C. Cannon, C. Wells. Row 2: H. Green, A. Price, P. Ausley, N. Murrah, C. Tichenor, J. Auger.

SENIOR NOTABLES

Drama

"THAT DOES IT!" screams Nancy Jo Martin as she and Jerry Albert practice a scene from one of the productions they appeared in.

Farm and Home Skills

"NOW THAT WE'VE RAISED THE BERRIES, will you bake us strawberry pie?" asks Gerald Simmons of Carol Krause.

Art

ROBERT STRANGE AND MARILYN LUTZ apply their talents in sketching a landscape.

Commerce

APPARENTLY OFFICE WORK is an enjoyable occupation for Don Burdick and Catherine Bamberg.

These Senior Notables were selected as the oustanding students in their respective areas by the groups they represent or by the faculty. The most scholastic were chosen by their scholastic records.

Music

"PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT," seems an appropriate way to describe the success of Betty Ann Viehman and Glenn Stockton.

Publications

"APRIL 26 IS THE first day of the Florida Scholastic Press Conference in Gainesville," explains Sabra Frick to Naomi Barksdale.

Scholarship

APPARENTLY Ann Price and Larry Kingsbury are making a thorough study of college offerings.

Sports

WILMA BURGESS prepares to bowl while Greg Maksi scores for her.

An Indian Prayer

O GREAT SPIRIT: whose voice I hear in the winds, and whose breath gives life to all the world, hear me. I come before you, one of your many children—I am small and weak. I need your strength and wisdom.

Let me walk in beauty and make my eyes ever behold the red and purple sunset. Make my hand respect the things you have made, my ears sharp to hear your voice. Make me wise, so that I may know the things you have taught my people, the lesson you have hidden in every leaf and rock.

I seek strength not to be superior to my brothers, but to be able to fight my greatest enemy—myself. Make me ever ready to come to you with clean hands and straight eyes, so when life fades as a fading sunset, my spirit may come to you without shame.

ADVERTISING

NO, L. GLIDWELL HASN'T COMMITTED A CRIME! He is merely being fingerprinted by Sgt. William Branch at the Orlando Police Station for his solicitor's card. B. Busbin, S. Howard, also members of the Boone Legend advertising staff and their adviser, Mr. Larson, waith their turn.

Orlando, widely recognized as a good place to shop, has many quality stores operated by people who try to carry products that meet the standards of a discriminating clientele. They advertise widely to help inform customers and to educate the buying public.

The business man and women of Orlando are modern in thinking as well as in business methods. They direct a portion of their advertising to the high school market, realizing that there are many customers of the present.

They are proud of their city and their schools, just as they are proud of their own establishments. They are businesslike and courteous when solicited by students for advertising because they regard advertising in school publications as good business. They know that high school students eat, wear clothes, drive cars and have their own money as well as having the final say on spending some of the family's money.

We are proud to carry the pictorial advertising of business firms of Orlando.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Realizing that this, the 1957 BOONE LEGEND, could not have been successfully completed without the diligent work and cooperation of many, we wish to express our genuine appreciation to those people.

To Mrs. Orissa Kingsbury and Mr. Howard Larson, our faculty advisers, go our deepest appreciation and a sincere "thank you" for their wise counsel and many, many hours devoted to the production of this book.

Since the appeal of an annual lies in its pictures, special recognition goes to our professional photographer, Mr. William Henningsen, who was most generous of his time and services. For several of the candid photos of campus life and on-the-spot pictures we gratefully acknowledge Miss Erress Arant, Mr. Bert French and the "Sentinel Star."

Recognition goes also to Mr. Johnny Long of Bowen, Long, Et Young, Inc., for his advice on type; to Mrs. Floy Blane of the Alabama Engraving Company for her assistance; to Miss Vida McGiffin and the staff of THE PIPER, Birmingham High School, Birmingham, Michigan, for their ideas for the pictorial advertising section; to the World Day of Prayer for permission to use "An Indian Prayer"; to Dr. Reid Montgomery of Florida State University for his professional advice; to the Perry Picture Company of Boston, Massachusetts, for its photograph of the famous sculpture "Appeal to the Great Spirit"; to the Collegiate Cap and Gown Company for the use of caps and gowns for senior pictures; and to Chuck Wilson for his fitting cover design.

To our understanding teachers go our thanks for their cooperation in helping us to make this book a reality.
